THE OVERACHIEVERS—Downey High School group was number one in their region in recent blood drive for the Red Cross.

Time Traveler

Downey as it was in the last century

By John Adams EDITOR EMERITUS

The Dismukes House which has been moved and beautifully restored in Apollo Park behind the Historical Society, is typical of the early settlement homes of early Downey.

Built in 1887 it was somewhat more luxurious than were earlier structures, but still representative of the style and methods of construction. Walls were usually pine or redwood with pieces of tin nailed over the knotholes. Spaces between the boards were chinked or battened, then the whole sealed with whitewash.

Most homes were two main rooms and a kitchen. Windows were usually shuttered to keep out the driving rain.

John Downey organized the Downey Land Association in 1874. It operated a tract of about 100 acres of what had been Rancho Santa Gertrudes. Some 300 homes were built here on Downey tract lands.

An old picture of the Dismukes home shows a man and a woman with two children. The woman holds the children while the man holds the bridles of two horses. The value of the animals cannot be fully appreciated in our own mechanized times.

In the 1870s and 1880s a horse meant transportation and the ability to work the fields, an ability that meant a good living could be wrung from the fertile soil of Downey's plain.

It was an atmosphere in which hard work could win a family a living from the land, and even the promise of something extra.

In addition to the Dismukes home, a clue to old Downey are fire insurance ledgers found in an attic of a building that was scheduled for demolition here.

One of these lists the business of the Commercial Union Insurance Company, Limited, of London, England. The dates cover 1884 to 1906.

DUSD salutes its young overachievers

Education Tuesday heard two presentations about overachieving students and teachers in the district.

Tom Houts, Downey High School principal, was profuse in his praise for Gordon Weisenburger and the DHS staff and students, especially the latter, for their achievement in the most recent blood drive for the American Red Cross. The school pulled all the stops, collecting 281 pints of blood, tops in their region. Weisenburger said he hopes the school goes over the 300-pint mark next spring.

West Middle School principal Craig Bertsch next honored faculty member Karlin La Porta with the Vision Award in the area of instruction. In prepared remarks, Bertsch cited her professionalism and said: "Every lesson she teaches is well-planned and exhibits research-proven strategies that promote student learning of the California Content Standards and important life skills. Every lesson maximizes instructional time and is differentiated to meet the unique needs and learning styles of our diverse student population."

La Porta, he proudly pointed out, is also West's Title I coordinator, responsible for "developing, monitoring, and implementing intervention programs for over 400 students that struggle in the areas of reading and math." La Porta, who holds a master's in reading and is a language arts specialist, is also a nationally certified trainer in SIOP (Sheltered Instruction Observation Protocol) an innovative program aimed at Limited English Proficient students. She has presented in San Antonio, Texas and in Manila, in the Philippines.

"If I were a parent of a West Middle School student," said Bertsch, "I would want my child to have Karlin as a teacher."

In other action the board:

Council tackles driveway, offstreet parking issues

By Henry Veneracion STAFF WRITER

DOWNEY—After hearing arguments primarily from two impacted residents appealing the denial of a zone variance that would retain an oversized driveway and permit excessive concrete paving in the front yard setback property at 7537 Calmerest Drive, zoned R1-5000, members of the City Council said they would follow the recommendation of the Planning Commission on the matter, and voted down the appeal.

In enumerating the reasons for the veto, the Council said there were no special circumstances that could be applied to the property in question, and that granting the request would confer a special privilege to the applicant, and this might open another can of worms.

Simulated disasters test Downey hospital

Dubbed by L.A. County officials as Operation Doubleheader, the disaster drill expanded with a downtown Downey terrorist explosion. City police and fire departments and a hospital-wide response ensued.

Rob Fuller, DRMC COO and incident commander, called the exercise necessary and valuable for intensive emergency response, and congratulated the staff at the drill's conclusion for a well-coordinated effort.

"I know how full the hospital is and I'm very proud of the work you are doing to ensure our patients' and community's safety," he said. Fuller also thanked the 120 volunteers lending time to strengthen community

Downey Regional ER Nursing Director Deb Gale coordinates periodic disaster drills at the hospital.

"Knowledge is power, not only for emergency responders but for everyone" she stated. "The more community members make provisions in case of an earthquake or other disaster the better. For example, everyone should have on hand at least one gallon of water per person per day for seven days, and a three-week supply of water is ideal."

The Los Angeles City Fire Department's Earthquake Preparedness Handbook states, "During an earthquake, stay away from heavy furniture, appliances, large panes of glass, shelves holding heavy objects, and masonry veneer (such as the fireplace). These items tend to fall or break and can injure you.

Usually, a hallway is one of the safest places if it is not crowded with objects. Kitchens and garages tend to be the most dangerous. Also, know the safest place in each room. It will be difficult to move from one place to another during a severe earthquake."

Elderly driver crashes DOWNEY—The Downey Unified School District Board of along Downey Avenue

DOWNEY — A 75-year-old Downey resident drove his vehicle over the sidewalk and into a business on Downey Avenue last week, before driving away and colliding three parked cars and a pedestrian, Downey Police said.

Julio Garcia was backing his 1999 Honda Accord out of a parking stall last Thursday at about 3:39 p.m. when he drove in reverse into the business at 11012 Downey Avenue, police said, injuring 24-year-old Pamela Yon of Bellflower.

Garcia then drove away and hit three parked cars and a pedestrian, Rafael Arevalo, 63, of Downey.

Both Yon and Arevalo sustained minor injuries and were treated at the scene by Downey Fire Department personnel. Arevalo was later transported to a local hospital.

Police said the incident is still under investigation.

Everyone likes fan mail. Maybe especially the board members and musicians of Downey's Symphony Orchestra, who get a lot of highlyregarded fan mail this time of year.

That is because the orchestra has just completed concerts for every third-grader in the city, and as soon as those kids, nearly 1,800 of them, returned to their classrooms, you can bet the teachers were handing out

'Hello! Louisiana' showcased Sunday

By Kevin O'Connor DOWNEY THEATRE

DOWNEY – "Hello! Louisiana" is the next film of Downey Theatre's 2006/07 Armchair Adventure Series, scheduled for 2:30 p.m., Sunday, November 19. Join travel film producers Monty and Marsha Brown, residents of Louisiana for over 20 years, as they take the audience on an exciting journey through their home state.

Travel along with the Browns on a trip around this exotic "third world country", where the Caribbean meets the Old South; where the Red River joins the mighty Mississippi; where French and Spanish flags flew over a steaming land of cotton and sugar cane, forming a heady brew of music and cuisine to delight and amaze the whole world. It's cypress trees and Spanish moss and poetry.

Where would we be without Louisiana? No Cajuns, Zydeco, Mardi Gras, pirogues or fais-do-do's. No Uncle Earl, Huey Long, Leadbelly, Jelly Roll or Professor Longhair. No "Hadacol Boogie", "You Are My Sunshine" or "Goodnight Irene". No Satchmo or Marie Laveau. Where else do you find the French Quarter, the Louisiana Hayride, and the birth of jazz? Louisiana, the starting point for Elvis and the end for Bonnie and

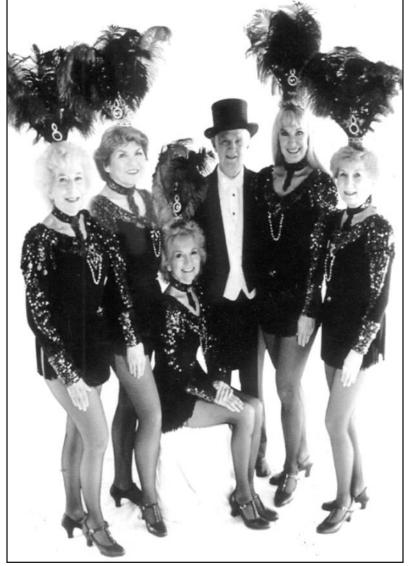

Visit the oldest European town in the entire Louisiana Purchase (Hint: It's Natchitoches, not New Orleans). And yes, we'll visit the Big Easy, too, where Carnival thrives all year long! And that's just skimming the surface. It's Louisiana, a world of its own! Let it haunt you. You won't want to leave. As the song says, "Goodbye bayou, see you in my dreams."

Monty and Marsha Brown live in Louisiana, have an extensive background in theatre, television, and film, and have written many songs together, including two - "Would You Fly?" and "Cajun Christmas" which were used in the movie Steel Magnolias.

They spent over a year working for the Louisiana Folklife Center at Northwestern State University in Natchitoches, where they produced the music and publicity of the 1989 Folk Festival. In Shreveport, they organized the regional Film Commission, which attracts Hollywood to the Bayou country. Marsha became the first Executive Director of the Commission. Meanwhile, Monty was announcer and Arts Producer for regional Public Radio in Shreveport, producing a weekly folk music program as well as many live concerts and radio articles on the Arts. In 2000 they changed careers and became travelogue producers. Their films include La Belle France, It's Great! Britain, and Hello! Louisiana. In 2005, the Travel Adventure Cinema Society awarded them the "Rising Star" honor, given to new artists in the travelogue field.

"Hello! Louisiana" is the fourth "Armchair Adventure" of a 10-film series. The series features full color, feature length travelogues with live, in-person narration by the travel adventure producer. All films are on Sundays at 2:30 p.m. in the Downey Theatre.

For information on season subscriptions please call the theatre box office, (562) 861-8211, Monday through Friday, 12 p.m. – 4 p.m. Tickets for individual films may be purchased on day of performance only beginning at 1:30 p.m. at the theatre box office. Adult tickets are $7 and senior/student tickets are $6 (cash or check only).

Salvation Army looks to community for help

DOWNEY – The Salvation Army has issued a call to Downey residents for donations of cash and non-perishable food, as well as volunteers to help with meal service during the Thanksgiving holiday.

As the number of disadvantaged families continues to rise in Southeast Communities Corps Center (the Salvation Army's local chapter), the need for support from the public becomes essential. The growing demand has spurred staff and volunteers to focus on ways to generate an increase in donations to help purchase food, clothing and other items.

"We are so grateful to the members in our community who have stepped forward with faithful support for families and individuals struggling to make ends meet," Lt. Gilbert Reves of the Southeast Communities Corps said. "Unfortunately, that number keeps escalating. In fact, a recent report from the Center on Hunger and Poverty stated that nearly one in eight U.S. households do not have access to enough food to meet their basic needs.

"Over 40 percent of low-income children live in households that are hungry or at risk of hunger. And the amount of public support for us to help those in need is not keeping pace."

Economic factors such as an increase in utility costs and mortgage rates have contributed to the local shortfall, Reyes said. Donors' discretionary income has been adversely affected, reducing the dollars that can be allocated towards nonprofit organizations such as the Salvation

Reyes said the Salvation Army is hopeful that the community can help lend a hand to those who need it most.

The Poets' Corner

In My Garden

Among the flowers and leaves of green, I came across a terrible scene – A yellow jacket unaware Was snared by a spider lurking near.

The bee put up a gallant fight, But the big green spider held him tight. With its legs so long and very thin, No way could the bee ever win.

I know that this is nature's way, And this occurs most every day, But in my garden so serene, I don't care to witness such a scene. - Martha J. Morrisey, Downey reads, "Never insure property that is not profitable to the owner. Never insure a stranger without full investigation and satisfactory evidence as to his antecedents."

In 1890 and again in 1905 agents were asked to shun certain risks, including bakeries, broom factories, Chinese and buildings occupied by them, glue factories and woolen mills.

What the Chinese residents had done to alienate the insurance company is not detailed.

Between 1884 and 1905 buildings in Downey included an agricultural implement store, a bakery, beer parlor, blacksmith shop, carpenter shop, citrus packing house, dental office, hotel, liquor store, livery stable, millinery shop, paint shop, post office, school, saloon and billiard hall, fraternal club, general stores, grain warehouse, social and athletic club, and the insurance agency.

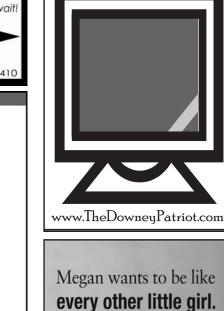

The warning about not insuring bakeries proved to be right. It burned on May 17, 1900.

Domestic items listed as insured in the ledgers included organs, books, art, pianos and sewing machines. There were at least four pianos in town. Three were in the homes of F. L. Floyd, W. C. Smith, and a Mrs. Benbrook, and a fourth was in the Los Nietos Lodge #197, IOOF.

Our source of information ends due to the San Francisco Fire of 1906, which caused the insurers to close their office. A note read, "Owing to the conflagration in San Francisco, most of the records of our office have been destroyed. Agents will oblige by sending us at once copies (on daily report blanks) of all the risks in force at their agencies."

The great quake and fire proved too much. The London based firm, and many others too, suffered such massive setbacks from the disaster that they re-grouped. But their ledgers were left behind to reveal valuable details of the history of old Downey.

Changes

By Eric Pierce

One of the worst things about growing older – especially when you're in your 20s – is that people develop at different rates. And that can wreak havoc on friendships and relationships that were once so strong.

What I mean is, there comes a point where you grow tired of chugging beers and going to nightclubs until all hours of the night. It's a gradual change, but eventually you settle down and start to appreciate how much fun having coffee at Starbucks with a close friend can be.

And that's a good change, I think, unless your friends are not changing with you, and then all of a sudden you find yourself home alone on a Friday night.

Surprisingly, not all fun needs to revolve around alcohol and self-degradation.

So what are you supposed to do when you miss your friends but not necessarily what they do?

I suppose the only thing to do is wait until your friends grow up a little. But I wonder how long a wait it's going to be and what I'm going to do in the meantime.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR:

Preserving our city

Downey's citizens have something to celebrate. This is our 50th year as an incorporated city. Back in 1956 our forefathers laid-out and incorporated the city, forming Downey as we know it today.

In actuality, Downey started way back in the 1870's if not before, with the little town of Gallatin which was located at the corner of Paramount and Florence. But it wasn't until the train came to town that things really started to happen. Today if you look around, there are very few reminders of what we once were. But that doesn't mean they have all vanished.

About a year ago, I did a little research with the help of the Downey Historical Society and found out that they had a list of sites that were considered "historic." There were twenty-three sites on the list which was compiled about 10-15 years ago. I was curious to see how many of the structures still remained. I was saddened to learn that only eleven of them remain today.

There were also some well-known landmarks that were not on the list. This was probably due to the list being incomplete. In the past fifty years we have had many accomplishments in our city that we can be proud of. In fact, if it wasn't for Downey, we may have never have made it to the Moon.

A couple of weeks ago I received the Downey Communicator Magazine which stated "Celebrate Downey Fifty Years of Progress." The cover was graced with many fine photographs of days gone by. I am sure that in the coming months there will be a lot of hype from the city about how important our landmarks really are. But are they really that important? Is the city going to protect our landmarks, culture and homes from the developers that don't care about our history and culture?

At this point in time I would have to say, "no." There is no ordinance to preserve any of our history here in Downey and this is unacceptable. According to a survey sent out by the city, historic and neighborhood preservation ranked high on the minds of many of the respondents. In fact, it was such a significant amount, that within the newly completed General Plan there is a section that addresses the concerns of the people of our city in regard to historical, cultural and neighborhood preservation. I know this to be true because I was the co-chair of the committee.

We listened to the people of our city and looked at the surveys that were returned. Historical and neighborhood preservation ranked high, along with concern for the lack of quality restaurants, over-night parking on residential streets and various traffic problems. The committee addressed these concerns, and created programs and policies that were written into the General Plan which was approved by the City Council for each of the previously mentioned.

Downey is in the process of celebrating it's 50th anniversary this year, but will it really mean anything if we don't have any landmarks left to celebrate? Wouldn't it be nice to be able to show your children and grandchildren the places that make Downey a great place to live? The places that give it a sense of feeling, a sense of place, and a sense of home. Unless the city takes immediate action, there will be nothing left except for "McMansions" and out-of-place mini malls.

In closing, wouldn't it be nice to give Downey a real gift? The gift of preservation, so that the next time we have a party there is still something left to celebrate. To really make a difference, perhaps the council should enact a meaningful historical preservation ordinance, which will make it

It is my hope that the City Council would find the time to write down some of their comments and ideas about historical, cultural and neighborhood preservation and send them to the editor of the Patriot. We - the community of Downey - would like to know how they feel about these topics

If you are interested in becoming involved in preserving Downey's historical landmarks, please feel free to contact me at preservedowneyhomes@yahoo.com. I would love to hear from you!

George Redfox,

Missing flags

Dear Editor:

I felt very sad when I drove around Downey on Veterans Day and didn't see flags on many of the homes.

Displaying our flag to honor our veterans is not a sign of being pro or anti war, it's to honor our veterans.

I have a father and two brothers that are veterans and I'm very proud of them. One brother received the Purple Heart when he was wounded in Iwo Jima. They were proud to serve their country and I'm proud of our veterans.

Local photographer has work exhibited

DOWNEY - After winning two awards in the recent Open Art Competition sponsored by the Lakewood Artist Guild, Downey photographer Alan D. Williams will have his work showcased at the El Dorado branch of the Long Beach Public Library through Nov. 28.

The showing includeds competition winners in both painting and photography.

One of Williams' pieces won both an Honorable Mention and Vendor Award from Tuttle Cameras of Long Beach. His work differs from that of other photographers in that it resembles abstract painting. While he uses a computer and the Web to showcase and sell his photoabstractions, Williams does not use any digital manipulation to create them, preferring to utilize only and optical image control.

The library is located at 2900 Studebaker Road in Long Beach. It is open Tuesdays and Thursdays from noon to 8 p.m. and Fridays and Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Examples of Williams' work can be found online at www.adwphoto.com.

CONTRIBUTED BY KATE DAVIES DOWNEY MUSEUM OF ART

DOWNEY – The Vio-fonik string trio opened the New Music series at the Downey Museum of Art last week to an intimate group of music

One of the favorites of the evening was a Scorzo composition entitled Rives Park about Harry's love of the park he always thought was Rives Park, actually known as Furman Park. Scorzo, a longtime Downey resident and a professional musician in the entertainment industry, is curating the new music series at DMOA as a gift for the community and for his love of Downey and the museum.

The next concert is December 7th.

Vio-fonik

His playing has been featured in many television programs and commercials, including: "The Mind of the Married Man", "Resurrection Blvd.", and MTV's "The Osborne's". He is considered the "Swiss Army Knife" of session violinists, filling the chair whenever the unusual is needed.

Christopher Garcia, percussion, was born, raised, and still resides in East L.A. His background includes performances in a wide variety of musical settings including; Jazz, Rock, World Music, traditional Mexican music, pre-Hispanic music, percussion ensemble, soundtracks, and cartoon music.

He attributes his musical growth to his studies with Professor John Bergamo, Pandit Tarnath Rao, Swapan Chadhouri and Leonice Shinemann where he studied tabla, while attending California Institute of the Arts on a full scholarship. Chris was also a member of the award winning Cal Arts Percussion Ensemble in 1979.

He attributes his "style" to listening to everything, logging in thousands of hours, practicing, rehearsing, performing and touring constantly with musicians interested in stretching and reinventing themselves throughout the United States, Canada, Europe and Southeast Asia. His drumming is unusual in that it incorporates not only the standard rhythms and their permutations, but also a fluency with odd time signatures and sonic textures, which he seamlessly incorporates into his playing.

Garcia performs in several groups including the Grande Mothers, a band made up of member's of Frank Zappa's band Mothers of Invention that is currently in Sarajevo for the Jazz Festival.

Alan Mautner, cello, grew up in Downey, and his family still resides here. He has been playing cello professionally in the Los Angeles and Orange County areas for the last 20 years.

He received his Bachelor of Music Degree from California State University, Fullerton and has performed with several local orchestras including the Pacific Symphony, Redlands Symphony, Riverside Symphony, and the Indian Wells Desert Symphony.

He currently is the principal cellist for the Mozart Classical Orchestra, the La Mirada Symphony, and the Valley Cultural Chamber Orchestra. In addition to his symphony work, he has been in back-up orchestras for entertainers including Dionne Warwick, Dennis de Young, Jon Tesh, The Gatlin Brothers, Barry White and Phil Collins.

Mautner has also performed with jazz artist such as Teddy Edwards, Terry Gibbs and McCoy Tyner.

His experience in chamber music has taken him abroad on several occasions. He toured with his string quartet "The California Strings" to Europe in 1983, and his piano trio "Trio du Bois" performed at the American University in Cairo, Egypt in 2000.

In addition to his performing, Mautner has received critical praise as a conductor. He is currently on the faculty of the Los Angeles County High School for the Arts where he is the conductor of the Symphony Orchestra, String Ensemble, and coaches String Chamber Music. He is also the cello professor at Concordia University in Irvine and in 2005, he joined the faculty at California Polytechnic University, Pomona as the director of their string ensemble.

Thanksgiving Day

Right now you may want more, To have something grand for you in store. You might want a great life, With no pain or brutal strife.

You might want to live without a care, Or have to answer a dare. Or you would wish for knowledge of wisdom, To harsh questions, you shall not succumb!

You might yearn for friends, to be in a crowd, Winning an award, making your parents swollen with pride. You might want a better figure, a pretty face, To become the master of the human race!

You may want numerous things, your hopes, your dreams, To gain popularity, to restore and to redeem. But it's not about what you want, without a doubt! It's being grateful with what you got; That's what Thanksgiving Day is all about! - Shaina Marie C. Sta. Cruz, Downey

Frozen Roasted Turkey, Stuffing & Dressing

(Makes about 16 servings. Allow ¾ pound turkey per person with eftovers. Designed to be prepared days in advance.)

- 1 unstuffed turkey (14 to 18 pounds)
- Water or chicken broth
- ½ cup flour
- Salt and pepper
- 1 tsp. liquid browning-seasoning sauce
- 2 stalks celery, cut in 3-in. pieces
- 1 onion, quartered
- 2 cups water
- ½ cup (1 cube or 4 ounces) butter or margarine
- 2 stalks celery, chopped
- 1 onion, chopped
- 1 package (12 ounces) seasoned bread dressing mix
- 1 turkey size plastic cooking bag
- 1. Clean turkey; remove and clean giblets, neck and tail.
- 2. Roast turkey by your favorite method to picture perfect doneness. Remove turkey from roaster and allow to cool completely, covered loosely. (About 2 to 3 hours.)
- 3. Measure drippings from roaster. Add water or broth to make cups. Pour into medium saucepan.
- 4. In small bowl, mix 1 cup water and flour until smooth. Add to saucepan; place over medium heat and cook 3 to 4 minutes. Season gravy with salt, pepper and browning sauce. Pour into freezer container. Freeze.
- 5. While turkey is roasting, place giblets, neck and tail in saucepan or pressure saucepan. Add celery, onion, water and seasoning as desired. Cover and cook until very well done.
- 6. Allow to cool. Remove and discard skin and bones. Place meat, vegetables and stock in blender container. Process until pureed. (Should have about 2 cups.)
- 7. In large skillet, melt butter. Add celery and onion; sauté 2 to minutes. Add dressing mix and toss together. Stir pureed stock, adding enough so that dressing can be pressed into a ball in your hand, yet it will crumble apart.
- 8. Place dressing in greased 8x8-inch baking pan; cover tightly with foil. Freeze. (Dressing ingredients may be doubled and baked in a 13x9-inch baking pan.)
- 9. When turkey is cooled, place whole bird in cooking bag. Press air out of bag and close tightly. Freeze.

To serve: Defrost turkey in the bag, gravy and dressing allowing 2 to 3 days in the refrigerator. Place turkey in the bag on shallow baking pan. Cut 3 or 4 slashes in top of bag. Bake turkey and pan of dressing 325 degrees oven for 1 hour. Heat gravy in saucepan over low temperature.

Hint: The advantage of cooling the whole roasted turkey is that all the bubbling juices distribute through and remain in the meat, making it succulently moist. It slices beautifully. Not only is it carefree for the cook, the clean-up crew is happy; no roaster and gravy pan mess the day of the dinner.

Apricot Sparkle

In advance, place unopened 12 oz. cans of apricot nectar or uice in the freezer. At serving time, open both ends of the can and push frozen juice into a large pitcher. Add one quart of room temperature ginger ale or similar carbonated beverage. Allow it to melt and thaw completely - stirring to blend. No ice is needed.

Note: Both drink recipes eliminate the refrigeration of large containers which is a help during holiday times when tall bottle space is at a premium in most refrigerators. The ingredients are very portable also.

Brown Gravy

Blend together, to a smooth paste, cold water and flour. This may be done with a spiral metal whip in a bowl or in a covered jar by shaking vigorously. Use double amount of water to flour (example: 2 Tbs. water to 1 Tbs. flour or 1 cup water to 1/2 cup flour). Try to estimate - allowing more than you'll need as it is very little waste to discard the extra.

Remove meat from pan drippings. Pour the meat drippings or stock in a sauce pan to make gravy. Add liquid (water or other) to this to make amount and richness desired, scraping brown from pan. (The water drained from boiled potatoes may be used for the added liquid.)

Gradually stir in flour paste. For smooth gravy, cook and stir over medium heat using a spiral whip until it thickens. Simmer about 3-5 minues so that the flour cooks. Season with salt and pepper to taste. Gravy thickens on standing. Add hot water if it becomes too thick when reheated. Add commercial gravy browning if need, such as Kitchen Bouquet.

Junior Midgets fall short in conference playoffs

By MIKE BAUMANN DOWNEY YOUTH FOOTBALL

DOWNEY – The 2006 Downey Razorback Junior Midget team (9 –0 on the season), played in the semi-final game against the 9-0 Lawndale Cardinal in the PCC Conference Championship Playoff last Saturday. These were the only two Jr. Midget teams in the conference to be unbeaten at this point.

The game was a replay of last year's Conference Championship game in which Lawndale overwhelmed the Hogs. However, this year's game was an exciting see-saw contest in which both teams moved the ball on long scoring drives over and over again. The contest was tied at 14 and at 22 points before the game ended. The difference in the game was that the Cardinals were able to stop Downey twice inside the 5 yard line.

The Razorbacks needed to keep the ball out of the hands of the much faster and larger Cardinals, and for the most part did just that. The Hogs opened the game with an 80 yard drive using six of the 10 minute quarter. Alex Solis scored the TD on a short dive. Eddy C. Moreno added the two point conversion and Downey shocked the Cardinals who had not been scored upon in several weeks.

The Hogs held Lawndale on fourth and one at the Cardinal 20 yard line and drove to the two where they fumbled. Lawndale responded by using their size and speed advantage with a 91-yard TD run by the fullback. Lawndale scored another TD in the second quarter to lead at the half 14-

Downey opened the second half with a successful onside kick, and with the strong running by Shane Baumann, Solis and Devon Samuels drove to the 1 yard line where they were stopped short of the goal line. The Hogs denied Lawndale a first down in the ensuing series, and the ball went over to Downey. This time Downey punched the ball into the endzone with another Solis plunge.

With the score tied at 14, Lawndale came back with a nice drive of their own for the TD and the lead.

Samuels returned the kickoff to midfield where the Razorbacks tied the game at 22 on two passes from Andrew Magana to Ryan McFadden, and runs by Baumann and Darius Powe, along with another PAT by Eddy C. With 4:36 remaining in the tied game, Lawndale's fullback once again sprinted into the endzone for the final score of the game.

Final score was 28-22.

The Conference Championship games will be held at Downey High School tomorrow, November 18. Games begin at 8 a.m. There are six contests which will crown the conference champions and determine the conference representative at the Regional (San Diego) and National AYF Championships (Tampa, Florida).

Playoff time: Downey hosts St. Paul tonight

• Winners of four straight, Downey needs a win tonight or season is over.

> By Eric Pierce CITY EDITOR

DOWNEY – Exciting as it was, it turns out Downey's late-season victory over rival Warren High School isn't going to be the Vikings' biggest game of the season after all.

Downey will host St. Paul tonight in the opening round of CIF playoffs, hoping to stretch their season-best winning streak to five games while advancing past the first round for the first time in recent memory.

Standing in their way are the Swordsmen, a private school team who finished the season at 5-5, a deceptive record for the reason that St. Paul competes in Mission League, a competitive notch higher than Downey's San Gabriel Valley League.

Whether the Vikings advance to the second round of playoffs will probably be determined by how St. Paul handles Downey senior running back Darren Tubbs, who will be relied upon heavily again by the Vikings. Downey's unquestioned force on offense, Tubbs has rushed for 1,740 vards this year and 18 touchdowns.

No one else comes to close to that kind of production for Downey: Joshua Higgins is second on offense with 337 yards and five touchdowns, and Downey might even be without him after he was reportedly suspended for unspecified reasons.

Tubbs has propelled Downey to four straight wins since October 20; the Vikings haven't lost in more than a month, when they were defeated by league champions Dominguez.

Good news for Downey is the blossoming play of junior quarterback Anthoney Moreno, who was thrust into the starting quarterback position at the start of the season.

Moreno's game has been on a steady upswing during the latter part of the season. Not the most polished passer to begin with, Moreno has thrown six touchdowns the last five games and only two interceptions.

St. Paul, in contrast, doesn't boast the same offensive firepower as Downey, but they do possess valuable experience against hard-hitting teams. They made easy work of St. Francis just last week, defeating them 21-9. They've also beaten Alemany of Mission Hills and Banning High

But the Swordsmen are far from perfect. They were crushed by Notre Dame, 59-7, and St. Bonaventure, 36-6. In both games St. Paul failed to get their offense in gear and fell behind early.

Containing the St. Paul offense will be the work of the entire Downey defensive team, but particular responsibility falls to Scott Miranda and Vincent Huitt. Miranda collected 101 tackles for the Vikings this year while Huitt leads the team with 6.5 sacks.

Other Downey players have helped solidify the defense as well, including Nick Hildreth, Sean Wheeler and Giovanni Garcia.

If Downey wants to play again after Friday, a good performance by the defense will be critical in order to compliment Tubbs' running game.

Game time is 7:30 p.m.

A Simple Way to Get A Check Made Out to You for $580

And an even simpler way to save twenty-five percent on your energy

For a limited number of SO. CALIF GAS customers who call and schedule a FREE Energy analysis and take advantage of this offer, we will give you a check for NO LESS THAN $580. Plus we will show you how to save an additional twenty-five percent on your energy bill. It's just that simple.

You do not have to pay any money down to get these savings, nor do you have to pay some other type of "hidden service costs." You only need to be a SO. CALIF GAS customer who wants to get a new efficient, trouble-free conditioning and heating system.

And you can get the check for $580 when you get your new system. Heres's how it works.

#1 Just call DOCKSTADER'S at 562-698-0201 and I'll send JOSEPH right out to measure your home and do a FREE energy analysis. You have spent nothing.

#2 Then, he will show you how a new system can reduce your energy bills right away. (the average is about $360 to $520). You have still spent nothing and are even ahead already.

#3 Once you got your new system, you'll get a check made out to you for at least $580 to use any way you wish. Now you're way ahead.

#4 PLUS, you'll have a full parts and labor warranty for 5 solid years that guarantees you can't spend anything on repairs during that time. Farther ahead still.

#5 Sit back and eniov the comfort and savings of your new system, with $580 cash in your pocket, for only $10 per month for the first 6 months. During that time, you can be saving MORE than you're spending. Not a bad day's

Oh yes, I almost forgot. Just so you'll know how serious we are about the savings. If you don't save a least twenty-five percent on your energy bills during the first year, we'll write you another check for the difference. I don't know how to be any fairer than that. But remember this offer is available to a limited number of SO. CALIF GAS CUSTOMERS ONLY. After that, we can no longer extend this offer. So call DOCSTADER'S now at 562-698-0201 to reserve your space in line. Thank you. Over 50 years in business. No sub contractors. All offers subject to approved credit.
