Roybal-Allard decries overturning of abortion rights

 ${\bf DOWNEY} \hbox{ - Congresswoman Lucille Roybal-Allard, who represents } \\ {\bf Downey in the House of Representatives, released the following statement} \$ following the Supreme Court's decision to overturn Roe V. Wade last week:

'There was a time before Roe when women sought out clandestine clinics with unlicensed providers to end an unwanted pregnancy, often resulting in serious complications or death.

"The decision that the Supreme Court advanced today not only infringes on a women's right to choose but has also created a public health crisis for millions of women across our nation.

"Today's SCOTUS decision will not affect abortion access in California. In 1969, our highest court recognized abortion rights under our state's constitution, four years before Roe was decided. Our state law protects the right to personal reproductive decisions.'

Elks operating fireworks stand despite Chamber of Commerce officially swore in Carmen Gonzalez as its losing non-profit status

DOWNEY - Downey Elks Lodge could potentially be operating a fireworks stand this year despite having previously lost its nonprofit status.

According to an entity status letter from the State of California Permanente, expressed gratitude Franchise Tax Board, Downey Elks Lodge 2020 is currently "not in good standing" with the Franchise Tax Board.

Additionally, the IRS website currently lists Downey Elks' federal taxexempt status as having been revoked on August 15, 2018 and posted April 11, 2019, with no listed reinstatement.

A person who answered the phone at Downey Elks Lodge said that the organization declined to comment, but did claim that the issue had been "resolved internally.

If Downey Elks has lost its nonprofit status and not been reinstated, then it would no longer be eligible to operate a fireworks stand, according to the Downey Municipal Code.

Application for and approval to operate a safe and sane fireworks stand is handled through Downey Fire Department. Proof of non-profit status is one of several qualifications that applicants must submit along with their application, also including a financial statement of current year's sales (if applicable), a current membership roster (minimum 25 members), and proof of two-year continuous history in Downey preceding the application

Assistant Fire Chief Anthony Hildebrand described the process as "lengthy," adding that it begins in October. He said that applications are thoroughly vetted prior to approval.

Eighteen permits are available annually for safe-and-sane firework stands in Downey. Although usually competitive, this was the first year that Downey Fire received fewer applications (17) than slots available, according to Hildebrand.

Downey Arts Coalition named 'legacy organization'

■ The designation by the City Council entitles the Downey Arts Coalition to discounted rental theater rates.

By Alex Dominguez Staff Writer

DOWNEY - The Downey City Council voted on Tuesday to recognize the Downey Arts Coalition as a Legacy Group in regards to use of the Downey Theatre.

In 2013, the city approved the development of a rental credit program for the theater.

There is currently a $40,000 "Downey Civic Theatre Assistance" program in the annual budget for providing assistance in the form of rental credit to Downey based non-profit organizations wishing to present a program at the theater.

Two groups - The Downey Symphony and the Downey Rose Float Association - were grandfathered in to the rental credit program.

There are some benefits to being a Legacy member.

Legacy members are allowed more freedom in what the financial assistance program will cover. In addition to the waiving of rental fees (which non-legacy members are awarded), Legacy members may also have labor, box office, and other costs associated with the rental of the theatre waived.

According to staff's report, historically the Downey Symphony applies for $25,000 of the assistance program funds, while Downey Rose Float applies for $8,000. This leaves around $7,000 for other applicants.

The DAC is currently hoping to submit a monthly "open house" style program. According to staff, the program could see the DAC ask for $25,000, however that cost may be offset by other sponsorship opportunities the nonprofit is seeking.

The DAC is hoping to have their first installment in July.

The council voted 4-1 to grant the DAC legacy status.

The sole vote against came from Donald La Plante, who cast doubts that the cost of a DAC event would match the turnout.

"We had an extraordinary event with [Mexico en el Corazon]; the place was full, it cost $3,500. I'm not so sure you're going to get a few 100 people even to come see an art show," said La Plante. "We need to think through how we want to do art in this community too."

in a miserable location for anybody to go see anything... I can't support this tonight, because we need to get a comprehensive plan of art in Downey. As much as I'd like to tell [DAC] they can have it in July, if they started in September or October, the world won't end.'

La Plante has been vocal about his desire to have a "comprehensive discussion" about the city's art, culture, and history programming and future for several weeks.

Things you didn't know about Downey: Downey as a college town

By Bobbi Bruce Downey Historical Society

DOWNEY - This is an article from John Adams' Time Traveler series in the Downey Eagle dated

A brass monument in front of Fire Station No. 1 commemorates one of Downey's two historic colleges that helped shape the history of early Los Angeles.

The fire station on Paramount Boulevard at Alameda Street is where Los Nietos College Institute, the first Protestant college in Los Angeles County, once stood.

The college was founded in 1868 when Methodist Minister John C. Ardis bought the plot of land to found a private school.

Ardis and his family had come west by covered wagon from Arkansas

A graduate of Emery College in Atlanta, Ardis had taught at Arkansas State College for several years. On arrival here, he first established the small Alameda School District which he ran for a year. Even as he ran the small grade school, he recognized the need for a larger school with more advanced grades.

Luckily, the Methodist Church had decided to erect a college somewhere in the West. In line with the local need, the Methodist Assembly convened in what later came to be Downey on March 19, 1869. They laid the college's cornerstone and named former governor John G. Downey the school's chairman, and Ardis its

After the cornerstone was in place, an auction of lots was held, establishing a community that came to be known as the College Settlement. It included an area and Montgomery Street, and from Alameda Street to Orange.

The first building erected was described as "barn-like" and seated 100. The five-acre campus was surrounded by a picket fence which was prettily decorated with shrubs and flowers.

Soon, another large building - the general store - went up at College and Alameda. The Masonic Lodge met there.

In 1876, a Methodist Church was erected on an acre-and-ahalf of property at College (as Paramount Boulevard was then called). William Steel donated the land, and the church was considered a landmark because of its 100-foot steeple.

Unfortunately, the church chose to sell the college.

Its operators chose to close it in 1879, reopened it in 1894, then closed it for good in 1897.

Meanwhile, another Downey institution of higher learning had come into being. Southern Pacific College was founded in 1877 by Downey, the same ex-governor who had originally been named chairman of Los Nietos College

This second and even larger school, Southern Pacific College, stood on a 10-acre tract of property just north of Fifth Street. The land was donated by Judge M.D. Crawford, a good friend and business partner of the ex-

At its peak, Southern Pacific College had 200 students who studied in a spacious, three-story building under the direction of the Rev. J. M. Monroe of the Christian Unfortunately, the building was leveled by flames in 1880. It and money could not be raised to rebuild.

The college had established loyal alumni, which honored its name by holding reunions which continued to the mid-1930's. They met at the Central Christian Church where Monroe was pastor.

The Blasters

The following article was from the Southeast LA Times on Thursday, April 14, 1983 and was written by Times Staff Writer Jan

Members of the rockabilly Blasters credit their youth in Downey with nurturing their interest in early rock n' roll and maintain that their careers would not have developed had they lived west of the Harbor Freeway.

Four members of the group grew up in Downey, and the fifth, who lived in Norwalk, spent much of his time here.

Their style of music reminiscent of the country and blues sound popularized in the 1950's by Elvis and Chuck Berry – is handed down from one generation to the next by Southerners and Midwesterners, they say. And the Southeast part of Los Angeles County, with a high population of residents from those regions, provides the necessary musical tradition for a group like the Blasters, who played April 1 at the Universal Amphitheatre.

"We could not have developed our music in Century City,' said pianist Gene Taylor. "it's important to be able to play music for people from the rural South, the Midwest or East LA. They bring with them whatever musical traditions they have."

Lead singer Phil Alvin, who

graduated from Pius X High School in 1971 and now lives in Long Beach, recalled playing songs at mom-and-pop bars in Downey early in his career.

"People in this area tell you stories about musicians, about songs," Alvin said in an interview at Hollander's Cafeteria in the Stonewood Mall, the band's hangout in the early days. "They'll say, sing 'Love Sick Blues,' sing 'Stormy Weather.' Nobody in Malibu will ask you to play those

"We'd fight all the time. You'd hear a song sung one way from the '50's and some guy in the bar would come in and say, 'No, it was played this way 30 years ago.' If you lived in Century City, you would have to learn that in a book. There are no people from Oklahoma in Century City. People here would ask me to play a Jimmie Rodgers song. Where are you going to learn a Jimmie Rodgers song in Century City?"

Gene Taylor, who graduated from Norwalk High School in 1970 and now lives in Downey, dismisses the charge that Downey lacks culture, arguing that what people on the westside consider culture is what they are told by high-paid public relations firms.

"Culture is not easily found in Downey, but it's here," Taylor said. "To me, television has nothing to do with culture. Fashion has nothing to do with why people live or die.

"I guarantee you that when the Depression gets really bad and bread lines come back, people won't give a damn what they latest fashion is, but they'll want you to sing a song."

The other three band members, Alvin's brother, Dave Downey resident Dr. Jonina Carmela Sunga Capino proudly announces her recent graduation from UCLA School of Dentistry as of May 29.

Dr. Jona, as she wants to be called, was Miss Teen Downey of 2011. She graduated valedictorian at St. Mark's Middle School, finished summa cum Laude at Cornelia Connelly High School, graduated cum laude at University of San Diego majoring in Biology with a minor in Chemistry and Management before entering the UCLA School of Dentistry.

While at UCLA, she was the president and founder of Oral Health Special Needs Committee, recipient of the Special Patient Care award, Sherwin Rosen Scholarship 2021 and the Shapiro Family Special Patient Care Endowed Scholarship

Dr. Jona started her Post-Doctoral Dental Matching Program at Downey Rancho Los Amigos National Rehabilitation Center this month.

Alvin, Bill Bateman, and John Bazz, also grew up in Downey.

Alvin said most people he meets in Los Angeles "don't know anything east of the Harbor

"I say, 'I'm from Downey' and they say, 'Oh, is that in Orange County?' But this is where early Californians lived. This is where the Indians lived. This is where you learn the oral traditions in music. The songs you hear came out of the swamps, out of the hills, out of Spain, everywhere. There's no real culture west of the Harbor Freeway because nobody lived

Walking towards his car in the Stonewood parking lot, Alvin paused and smiled when he spotted a Tennessee license plate on a car. "You'd never see that in Century City," he said.

Blasters band members shopped at Wenzel's Music Town in Downey, where they can buy their records.

Downey's Leap program unveils playground

DOWNEY - At the end of May, Downey Unified's early education program, Leap, held a ribbon cutting ceremony to unveil its new playground.

Leap, which is in its first school year at the Pace Education Center (formerly Lynn Pace Elementary School), provides 3 to 5-year-old students with a strong foundation to excel in transitional kindergarten (TK), kindergarten and beyond.

Being closed as a functioning school campus for some years, the decision to house Leap at the Pace Education Center campus made the need to provide more appropriate facilities and adjustments to accommodate students. This playground is the latest change to the campus to better suit Leap's young learners.

Those in attendance for the official ribbon cutting were Downey Unified's Board of Education members, Superintendent Dr. John Garcia and administration as well as Leap Program's Coordinator Lisa Rawling and thier teachers, staff, students and parents.

To learn more about Leap and how this program provides students with the opportunities and experiences needed to help them succeed, visit the Leap website: web.dusd.net/leap.

Reflecting on July 4 in 2022

By Mario A. Guerra Contributor

his year we celebrate the 246th anniversary of our nation's independence.

Armed conflict between bands of American colonists and British soldiers first broke out in 1775, more than a year before we declared our independence. So, interestingly enough, your Army is a year older than the nation it defends.

That's why it's impossible not to think about our nation's independence without also thinking about the United States Army which secured it. And as we mark our country's 246th birthday, let us reflect upon the strength of those early patriots.

Their spirit that Independence Day 2022 is carried on today in the hearts and minds of our Army Soldiers and Department of the Army Civilians. They have demonstrated that when it comes to our nation's freedom and liberty, they embody the words of our Army motto, "This We'll Defend."

The Army has defended America in every conflict since the Revolutionary War, promoting freedom for all, a concept originally enshrined in the Declaration. In early June of 1776, the Continental Congress met in Philadelphia to discuss the prospect of formally separating from Great Britain.

Even after years of heavy taxes and oppression, not everyone was in favor of independence. After about a month of debate, and after a committee drafted a statement justifying independence from Great Britain, on July 2, 1776, the Continental Independence Day 2021. Congress voted to become independent of Great Britain.

On July 4, they adopted the Declaration of Independence. We have the blessing of hindsight and know the Revolutionary War was a success, but at the time, members of the Continental Congress were not certain that the country – this new country, one they would have to fight for – would be successful. And, after all, they were committing treason in the eyes of Great Britain.

When Benjamin Franklin signed the Declaration, he spoke for many of those in the room when he said, "We must all hang together, or most assuredly, we will all hang separately." Our Founding Fathers did not take treason lightly, but they firmly believed in the arguments laid out in the Declaration and, 11 years later, the concepts in the Constitution: "We the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, ensure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America."

And over the years, we have added a Bill of Rights and a total of 27 Amendments to the Constitution to further enshrine and expand what it means to be an American. The right of a free press, the right to vote, to peacefully assemble, the state not promoting any one religion, the right to a speedy trial by a jury of one's peers and protections for citizens are all things that new citizens to our country cite when asked why they wanted to become Americans.

With the privileges accorded to us by the Constitution, we have both civic duties and civic responsibilities to ensure our freedom is protected. As citizens of this great country, we have the civic duty, for example, to participate in the democratic process by voting and serving on juries when we are called.

Our civic responsibilities are a little different. As citizens, we have a responsibility to stay informed of current events and encourage social participation in our democracy. We have a responsibility to make our communities better places to live and work, and we have a responsibility to volunteer and give back to our communities.

This is part of what it means to be an American, and it's why we celebrate Independence Day. The Fourth of July, our Independence Day, is about the freedom that we enjoy as Americans.

But that freedom did not come easy. This year, as we commemorate our independence, let's remember how hard our ancestors fought so we could be free. They fought in the Revolutionary War and the War of 1812 to ensure we could be free to govern ourselves.

Ever since our first days as an independent nation, an unbroken line of courageous men and women have guarded our freedom from the battlefields of distant lands to cyber and space. Freedom, as the saying goes, isn't free. It's very costly. It costs money, it costs lives, and it costs time.

The United States – our great nation – did not become what we are in one day, one month or one year. It took more than two centuries of effort and hard work to get to where we are today. The dream of our Founding Fathers was to make America the prime example of real freedom in this world. The struggle to attain this goal, and to be worthy of their vision and sacrifice, has sometimes been difficult, but it's a struggle worth fighting for.

We are a country constantly working to become a more perfect union, with our citizens embodying the light and the hope of our founding documents. If we continue to do better...and we must do better...then we truly do get closer to fulfilling our principles of liberty, equality, and justice.

Our future is in our own hands. It is in the choices we make, each and every day. And it rests within each of us, trying to be better persons for ourselves and those around us...for our communities and society...for our nation and the world

I'm reminded of the words of President Abraham Lincoln, who also lived in a turbulent time, and knew the value of his country: "I like to see a man proud of the place in which he lives. I like to see a man live so that his place will be proud of him."

We are proud of our men and women who serve this nation, and we are proud to be part of a nation that prizes freedom above all else. God bless you America, and Happy Birthday.

Mary Joan DaSilva passed away peacefully in her sleep on June 11, 2022. She was 88. Mary Joan was born on Jan. 29, 1934, in Richland County, Wisconsin, to Frank and Mary Alice Cosgrove. She was the second child for the couple, who also had a son, Virgil. They grew up on a farm and attended a one-room schoolhouse. After

Mary's College in Madison, Wisconsin, where she earned a nursing degree and soon became a registered nurse. After a couple of years, Mary Joan decided to move to California. She headed west with a friend and located in Downey, where she would reside for the remainder of her life. In 1958, she met Henry DaSilva at a young adults group at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church. A year later, they married at OLPH, where they remained parishioners. With the birth of their first daughter, Mary Joan left her job as a registered nurse to become a homemaker. The couple went on to have three more daughters. Over the next several years, Hank worked as an accountant at Hughes Aircraft Company, while Mary Joan spent her days taking care of her daughters, volunteering at their schools and with their scout troops, baking, sewing, playing games and carting them around in the family's paneled Ford station wagon. After Hank passed away unexpectedly in 1985, Mary Joan went back to work as a special education assistant in the Downey Unified School District. She also became the rock for her family. She was always supportive of her daughters, no matter what, and helped them to complete college and follow their dreams. Mary Joan loved to travel and explore new places, especially Europe. She also enjoyed reading, quilting, going to plays with her friends and spending time with family, including her fur-babies and grand-fur babies. Expand the court

Dear Editor:

Nowhere in the Constitution does it say that we have to have nine Supreme Court Justices. Nor would it require a Constitutional amendment to add more seats. In fact, Congress has expanded the Supreme Court five times throughout American history.

Congress should use its constitutional authority to rebalance the Supreme Court, which has been taken over by a supermajority that holds extreme views outside of the mainstream of legal thought and out of step with most Americans. That's why Congress must pass the Judiciary Act, which would add four seats to the Supreme Court and help stem the right-wing supermajority's attacks on our fundamental freedoms, including the right to access abortion care.

There's nothing stopping Congress from adding justices except for the political will to do it, of course. In fact, recent polling showed that the majority of the American voters they represent support expanding the court.

That's why I'm urging Congress to pass to support the Judiciary Act of 2021 and add four seats to the Supreme Court.

Legislating morality

Dear Editor:

the predominant theme was prohibition.

Much to my surprise, I saw people who I knew were in the business of producing moonshine also campaigning in favor of prohibition. When i asked them why, they told me it is very simple. Prohibiting alcohol would increase the demand for moonshine and business would increase substantially.

The same could be said about the recent Supreme Court overturn of Roe v. Wade. It will not stop abortion. It will simply Anita Rivero increase the number of illegal abortions and it will be a very Downey attractive profitable opportunity for illegal abortion clinics.

Trying to moralize through legislation has never worked. We saw it during the Great Experiment which only increased crime and did not stop people from drinking. We see it when cigarettes

Gas station qouqing makers continue to increase their profits in spite of many attempts to legislate them out of business and we will see it again with abortion.

Legislating against abortion will not stop it. It will simply drive it underground. If people want it, there will be somebody who will supply it.

Trump 2024

The Jan. 6th Investigative Hearing Committee is made up of 7 Democrats and 2 Republicans (in name only) - all who hate President Trump.

This committee is the judge, jury, and prosecutor with Donald J. Trump, the defendant, who is not allowed to state his case nor have his defense attorney present. Election results have been questioned many times in the past, but with President Trump, when he questions voting irregularities in some of the State Legislatures, he's accused of attempting to overturn an election.

If, as Jorge Montero says, Donald Trump is a dictator Nicaragua's Ortega in the making - why would President Trump during his four years in office secure the southern border, make our country energy independent, broker peace with Muslim countries and Israel, enable our economy to thrive, and keep us out of new wars? There were no new wars under Trump's leadership.

President Biden, on his first day in office with a stroke of a pen, cancelled the construction of the border wall, leaving the border wide open for anyone and everything to enter our country; shut down the XL Keystone pipeline and drilling sites; because of weakness shown in the debacle when exiting Afghanistan, prompted Russia to invade Ukraine - a war that never would have happened under Trump's leadership. Under Biden's inept leadership, inflation is now over 8%, gasoline prices are the highest ever, food costs are skyrocketing, and mothers are unable to get baby formula for their infants. Biden has been acting more like a dictator than Trump ever did.

Seeing the deplorable shape our county is in under the Biden administration, I can't wait until the Republicans take over the House and Senate in November, and can't contain the excitement I feel for 2024 to arrive when, hopefully, I can again cast my vote for the greatest president our country has ever had - Donald Trump.

No regrets

Dear Editor:

This April 2022, my husband and I celebrated 50 years of our marriage. We have two wonderful sons and two lovely

Looking back 50 years, to April 1972, when we were newlyweds, my Bolivian-born husband, Guido, now a U.S citizen, had come here as a foreign student hoping to become a lawyer after finishing a year of law school in his country. Shortly after our marriage, he applied for U.S. residency. He was just starting college here. I had finished my BA in Social Sciences at San Diego State University two months earlier.

We were living with my parents as we had no money. He got a job as a journalist with a small Spanish language newspaper but the pay was very low. I was looking for a job.

I had just started taking birth control pills. Soon after I began feeling nauseous. One of Guido's friends suggested I might be pregnant. I thought, no way, I had been very careful. But he was right, I was pregnant. We had no intention of having a baby until we were more financially stable. My mom took me to a place nearby where I got an abortion.

My husband finished his university studies and got a job as a teacher with LAUSD where he worked for over 30 years. We raised our two children and Guido retired over 10 years ago.

My husband's father, being a farm owner and a very faithful Catholic, had 25 children with three wives (he was widowed twice and remarried each time). His first wife died in childbirth, giving birth to their 12th child.

I know that families nowadays need to prevent so many births Over 40 years ago I was in Tennessee during an election where as we are already overpopulated on Earth. We are depleting the Earth's natural resources and worsening pollution-caused climate change with human activities. I am one of the approximately one in four women in the U.S. who have had an abortion.

My husband and I have no regrets and I am horrified that many young women now will be forced to carry unwanted pregnancies to term or go to illegal back alley abortion providers risking their lives and their health.

I have noticed that the Shell stations in Downey (Firestone and Woodruff, and Paramount and Telegraph) are significantly more expensive than the other stations, specifically Chevron, 76, Mobil and certainly Arco.

Who's to blame for Jan. 6?

Dear Editor:

This letter is in response to Martha Morrissy's letter from June 16 ("Time to Move On From Jan. 6").

It's astounding to read the claims that Donald Trump urged monies with faculty. Congress to prepare for possible unrest on January 6 when all evidence says otherwise. First, it was Trump who urged his supporters to travel to Washington, D.C. and even tweeted about it in the days and weeks leading up to January 6.

Second, his Acting Defense Secretary, Christopher C. Miller, ordered National Guard troops to not be armed with weapons, batons, and ballistic equipment, only two days before January 6.

Third, after the insurrectionists had stormed the Capitol, President Trump refused to send in the National Guard; Vice President Mike Pence circumvented protocol and authorized the deployment of the D.C. National Guard hours after the initial storming took place. It's an odd display of cognitive dissonance where the man responsible for organizing the protest-turnedinsurrection and sabotaged the deployment of National Guard troops is also the man who had the foresight to warn Nancy Pelosi of "possible bad behavior" and unfortunately his warnings were not heeded. It's curious how the commander-in-chief, the most powerful man in the country, and arguably the world, could not have done more to prevent the insurrection from taking place and could only warn the House Speaker.

58% of Americans think Trump should face criminal charges for his role in the insurrection, while a poll from Quinnipiac shows 64% of Americans think the attack on the Capitol was planned, which surprises me given the polarization in the country.

As a country, we can walk and chew gum at the same time, finding solutions to inflation, gas prices, as well as getting to the bottom of what happened on January 6, 2021.

Dear Editor:

The invasion of the U.S. Capitol on Jan. 6, 2021 should not and would not have happened if Trump and some of his minions had not deliberately plotted to overthrow the democratically elected government of the United State of America.

Every time I hear a Republican legislator say it is "time to move on" from January 6, 2021, I immediately think that that person must have something to hide. Who in their right mind can object to an in-depth investigation of such a horrific act? Only someone with a guilty conscience, or who may be afraid of being found out.

Thankfully, as we are now hearing, there were also a number of honest Republicans who did their duty to the country and did not cave in to pressure from those evil-doers who wished to overthrow democracy.

I seem to remember some people making a very big deal, along Professor, Cerritos College with chants of "lock her up," about Hilary Clinton's email server. So why now are now hearing no chants of "Lock Him Up - Lock Him Up - Lock Him Up?"

Cerritos College negotiations

Dear Editor:

Cerritos College Faculty Federation (CCFF) is happy to see the movement the Cerritos College District provided since faculty have shared our frustrations and disappointment with the

Although the proposal provided by the Cerritos College to disclose that the California legislature has already provided an ongoing 5.07% increase to Cerritos College. This 5.07% is a cost of living adjustment that was meant to be passed down to all employees, to offset the crippling inflation we are experiencing. What the Cerritos College District did not say is that instead of giving their employees true salary increases, this proposal

District seemed fair on paper, the Cerritos College District failed provides the bulk of the funding as a "one time" stipend. Providing a "one time increase" means that employees will lose out on more than $100,000 in retirement because those stipends don't count toward employee's retirement funds. What the Cerritos College District omits in their response is that the state of California has determined that the Cost of Living Adjustment (COLA) for 2022-23 is 6.56%. The Cerritos College District is offering only a 4% salary increase next year. This means they are pocketing another 2.5% of the state funding that is meant to be allocated for employees. It is worth mentioning that, yes, CCFF agrees that the Cerritos

College District has provided a formal offer to the Cerritos College Faculty Federation on June 2, 2022. Unfortunately, this proposal is not reasonable, not fair, and not equitable. This proposal does not take into account the employees who dedicate their lives to this college.

As a labor union, CCFF is advocating for our members' immediate livelihood and ensuring that our members can afford groceries, rent and utilities when they retire.

Dr. Lynn Wang CCFF President

Dear Editor:

I have taught at Cerritos College for 18 years. By responding to April Bracamontes's letter about the labor dispute there with a detailed proposal (which is not even official any longer!), the District willfully violated labor law, which prohibits either party from breaking the confidentiality of what was discussed unofficially in mediation.

Clearly this District—which has record reserves—will stop at nothing to distort the record and to disrespect faculty for the amazing work we have accomplished during the pandemic. They are worse than bad-faith negotiators; they have become malign negotiators.

Taxpayers should be appalled.

Ted Stolze

Cerritos College Board of Trustees just this June unanimously voted to extend President Jose Fierro's tenure for four more years at about $250,000 annually, a quarter of a million dollars.

In the Norwalk Patriot article, Board of Trustee leader James Cody Birkey enthusiastically exclaimed how President Fierro supports our students and faculty. It is obvious to anyone in passing that students and faculty are the main interface for any educational institution, such as Cerritos College. With this in mind, Fierro and the Board of Trustees have withheld the COLA (cost of living allowance) sent from the State of California for faculty members in 2021 and 2022, and refuse to discuss these Further, Fierro and the board have a judgement against them made by PERB, Public Employment Relations Board, regarding their negotiating in bad faith with the Cerritos College Faculty Union, during past negotiations. Also, the board and Fierro have illegally broken confidentiality during negotiations, stalled negotiations to a snail's pace for over two years, leaving faculty without a contract for this period and the foreseeable future.

When COLA for 2023 is due, it is expected that Fierro and the board will keep that money for themselves as well.

Lastly, Fierro, while celebrating his new 4-year contract, made this statement: "I am also thankful for our classified, confidential, and management teams and the Cerritos College community at large who share the same vision for helping our students to realize their goals and dreams."

You notice there is zero reference to faculty. Fierro and the board paint a picture of college success by their hands alone, with some honorable mentions to a few, and absolute silence concerning faculty. I guess in their minds faculty are not needed at a college, or don't exist. It's hard to say what their angle is.

Due to these circumstances, a faculty strike is looming, since As for moving on from January 6, a recent ABC News poll showed the board and Fierro are too busy congratulating themselves and ignoring faculty for going on three years.

> Lastly, Covid-19 caused innumerable deaths and illnesses globally; my own Anthropology Department lost an adjunct instructor, Benjamin Fierro (no relation), to Covid-19. Covid-19 put extreme pressures on all educators to re-make courses for online only, a massive task, while current rising inflation is taking a different toll on us all. Meanwhile, the Cerritos College board and President Fierro gave themselves raises and bonuses in the past 2-3 years, but refuse to do anything like this for faculty.

> Fierro and the board made our last negotiations for a contract in 2015-16 a torturous event, and have delivered another level of torture during these negotiations for 2+ years. That is their way, full of poor leadership and mistrust regarding faculty.

> In closing, California is flush with money due to a record setting surplus, and Cerritos College has the largest money reserves for any community college in California, therefore the money is there to cover our modest pay increases, and COLA 2021 and 2022 came from the state.

> We faculty need a new enduring climate of fairness and decency from the Board of Trustees and President Fierro, not insults, extortion, slights, tricks and stalling tactics.

> Cerritos College faculty, staff and students all stand united against the Board of Trustees and President Fierro's treatment of faculty. The public needs to know these facts.

Whittier considers prosecuting local cases

WHITTIER - The Whittier City Council is looking into prosecuting local misdemeanor offenses in response to special directives issued by the Los Angeles County District Attorney that appear to contradict voterapproved ballot measures.

The City Council, at its meeting on Tuesday, is drafting a potential ballot measure to allow Whittier voters to decide if the city should prosecute misdemeanor cases and modify the city attorney's powers and duties to include the prosecution of local misdemeanors.

The City Council cited numerous interactions with the office of L.A. County District Attorney George Gascón to support Whittier's strategic plan goal of enhancing public safety and protecting the community, according to a release from the

The council adopted a resolution expressing a vote of no confidence in Gascón on April 24, 2021. The council also, in March 2022, directed staff to send a letter to Gascón's office requesting that Whittier be allowed to prosecute its own misdemeanor violations. Long Beach, Pasadena and Torrance have made similar requests.

"We have a responsibility to our residents to ensure that the laws to protect and enhance the quality of life in Whittier are upheld and enforced," Mayor Joe Vinatieri said in a statement. "While we will continue working with the District Attorney, we ultimately believe our community members directly impacted by these policies should have the opportunity to make the decision at the ballot box in November."

The City Council will revisit the resolution to add the charter amendment to the statewide ballot at its next meeting on July

The measure could be added to the ballot for the election in November if approved. It would not obligate the city to prosecute its own misdemeanors, but provide flexibility should the City Council wish to do so, according DOWNEY - A woman is suing Kaiser Foundation Health Plan Inc. and Southern California Permanente Medical Group, alleging an employee's cell phone recorded the plaintiff while undressing during a visit to the Downey facility in 2020.

Superior Court lawsuit, alleging negligence, negligent infliction of emotional distress and premises liability. Doe seeks unspecified Doe was "captured undressing herself by a cell phone left on the premises of a dressing area" by a Kaiser employee during a video call

The plaintiff is identified only as Jane Doe in the Los Angeles on June 30, 2020, at the Kaiser Permanente Orchard Medical Offices on Imperial Highway, the suit states. Doe's "personal and sensitive information was transmitted and shared (with) unknown person(s)," the suit alleges.

The suit does not state who was on the video call, why it was being conducted or the job title of the employee.

Kaiser Permanente released a statement Monday: "Kaiser Permanente has strong and unequivocally clear policies in place that protect our patients' privacy, and we do not condone nor tolerate any breach of such policies. The safety and security of our patients are our highest priority. We have not yet been served with the lawsuit in question, and we cannot comment on specific patient situations due to our confidentiality obligations."

The Summer Day

Who made the world? Who made the swan, and the black bear? Who made the grasshopper?

This grasshopper, I meanthe one who has flung herself out of the grass, the one who is eating sugar out of my hand, who is moving her jaws back and forth instead of up and downwho is gazing around with her enormous and complicated eyes. Now she lifts her pale forearms and thoroughly washes her face. Now she snaps her wings open, and floats away.

I don't know exactly what a prayer is. I do know how to pay attention, how to fall down into the grass, how to kneel down in the grass, how to be idle and blessed, how to stroll through the fields, which is what I have been doing all day.

Tell me, what else should I have done? Doesn't everything die at last, and too soon? Tell me, what is it you plan to do with your one wild and precious life?

Mary Oliver, House of Light, Beacon Press, 1991

Oliver draws her strength from her connection with the natural world. But these turbulent times go far beyond one's personal concerns. The poem's last couplet can be taken as a challenge. Poetry Matters is curated by Lorine Parks.
