Film festival returns for 11th year

■ The four-day film festival kicks off Sunday in Downey; tickets are free.

By Lorine Parks Society Editor

DOWNEY – Glennfest lives!

Glenn Stephens, founder and impresario of Downey's own Festival of Films of Special Interest, announced this year's dates of October 9-13. As always, tickets are free, but must be ordered through Eventbrite.

"Enjoy films again on the big District 2 screen," said Glenn. "We're 'sensorfriendly.' Our experience will feature lowered volume, brighter lights and freedom to move around.'

So far, titles for the 11th annual screenings include director Gemma Arterton's "Summerland;" "Fantastic Planet, a Sublime Trip to a New World;" "I Dream in Another Language;" "MVP: the Movie;" and "This Changes Everything."

Venues include longtime arts patron David Devin's Epic Lounge, 8329 Second Street, that has a bar and menu from next-door LA Buns. "Summerland" and "I Dream in Another Language" play at the Epic Lounge on Monday, Oct. 10, ("Summerland" at 6 pm, "I Dream" at 8 pm). "MVP" screens on paraphernalia/misc. Tuesday, Oct. 11, at 7 pm.

Claudia Frometa and Hector Sosa lead in fundraising among Downey city council candidates.

By Alex Dominguez Staff Writer

DOWNEY – Four of six Downey city council candidates reported receiving monetary contributions between July 1 and Sept. 24 in anticipation of this year's election.

State law requires candidates to report campaign expenses and expenditures with the city clerk.

Hector Sosa significantly out raised his competition, collecting $28,600, reporting no loans.

His most significant financial contribution comes attached to property management company L'Abri Management, who gave him $1,000 in addition to $1,000 he received from owner Ron Kolar. He also shares several contributors with Councilwoman Claudia M. Frometa, whom he did some campaigning with.

At a total of $21,317.86, Sosa outspent all other candidates, mostly on campaign consultations, literature and at 8200 3rd Street, offers stateof-the-art immersive presentation experience, upscale menu and service. "Fantastic exceptional Planet" plays there Wednesday, Oct. 12, at 7 pm, and the surprise kidfriendly special on Sunday, Oct. 9, at 11:30 a.m and again Wednesday, Oct. 12, at 7 p.m.

A big treat every year is the movie Glenn choses for kids and young adults with special needs.

'We can't name the movie," said Glenn, "because it's still in the theaters. But it is very new, and Look Dine In Cinema will provide free popcorn and sponsors will provide drinks. Assemblywoman Cristina Garcia has helped with promoting and will give out coloring books."

Added special attraction is "This Changes Everything," a film held over from last year's Glennfest, about the MeToo movement in show business. It's an investigative look and analysis of gender disparity in Hollywood, featuring accounts from well-known actors, executives and artists in the Industry.

Showing will be Thursday Oct 13, at 6 pm, at LOOK Dine In. Glenn is arranging a panel of women directors, representing Latinx, Afro-American, and gender-fluid points of view. Complimentary pastries and coffee will be offered.

Glennfest began 11 years ago with Glenn's October birthday, as his present for the community. In spite of Covid, Glenn has managed to provide the continuity of the film festival every year. Somehow he juggles all the balls and satisfies audiences, negotiates with feature suppliers, deals with venues and still presents quality films.

Glennfest now operates under the independent umbrella of the Downey Film Society, a non-profit 401k corporation. All donations are acknowledged and donors receive a statement for tax purposes.

"Everything helps,' says Glenn.

"Summerland" explores the joys of magical realism, and why characters don't have to be "likable.'

Paging Dr. Frischer...

By Dr. Alan Frischer

Some of my patients, in addition to seeing me regularly, seek out acupuncture treatments. What is this ancient practice, and what does Western medicine have to say about its effectiveness?

An acupuncturist penetrates the skin with thin, solid, metallic needles. Traditional Chinese medicine identifies more than 2,000 acupuncture points, connected by pathways (meridians). These pathways channel an energy known as Qi. It is believed that disruption of this energy flow is responsible for disease, and that the application of the needles

Since acupuncture uses extremely thin needles, the discomfort is minimal. Some find that the treatments make them feel energized; others, relaxed. The needles might be heated, or a mild electrical current may be applied to them. The FDA regulates acupuncture needles, just as it does other medical devices.

What has Western medicine found? Many Western practitioners believe that acupuncture stimulates the central nervous system, which in turn releases chemicals into the muscles, spinal cord, and brain. These biochemical changes may stimulate the body's natural healing abilities and promote physical and emotional well-being. The National Institutes of Health (NIH) has performed solid scientific studies demonstrating that acupuncture is effective, alone or in combination with conventional therapies, for conditions which include:

nausea from surgical anesthesia and cancer chemotherapy

dental pain following surgery

- addiction
- menstrual cramps
- tennis elbow
- fibromyalgia
- myofascial pain
- osteoarthritis
- low back pain

headaches, including tension and migraine

carpal tunnel syndrome

asthma, allergies and other respiratory conditions

labor pain

Increasingly, acupuncture is also being used for overall wellness, including stress management, although its effectiveness in those areas is more difficult to quantify through scientific studies.

The risks from receiving acupuncture are minimal, assuming that the practitioner is competent and certified. Common side effects include soreness and minor bleeding or bruising where the needles were inserted. Single-use, disposable needles are now the practice standard, which nearly eliminates the risk of infection. People who should avoid acupuncture include those with a bleeding disorder, a pacemaker (due to the electrical pulses sometimes used), and pregnant women (as some acupuncture points might actually stimulate labor).

An acupuncture session may last up to 60 minutes, although some may be shorter. depending on the problem being treated. The number of sessions also depends on the condition, although six to eight treatments are common. Note that acupuncture points are located all over the body, and that the appropriate points may be far removed from the actual area of the discomfort. A treatment may use 5 to 20 needles, which may be moved, twirled, conduct heat, or receive a mild electrical pulse.

My bottom line? Acupuncture is a very safe treatment when used by a qualified practitioner. Complications are exceedingly rare. Extensive studies show real efficacy for a variety of conditions. Note that researchers are only beginning to understand whether acupuncture can be helpful for other conditions as well. As always, discuss any treatment method with your physician, and I urge you to not use acupuncture in lieu of seeing your regular health care provider.

Downey agency lands $50K grant for health initiative

DOWNEY - Downey-based St. Louise Resource Services (StLRS) was awarded a grant of $50,000 from Health Net in support of StLRS' Community Promotores Initiative (CPI) to help reduce health disparities by educating families across marginalized communities and areas where healthcare systems may be challenging to access due to socio-economic, cultural, or linguistic barriers.

St. Louise Resource Services' mission is to empower people to access health care benefits and social services they may need, and this grant will support those efforts through the Community Promotores Initiative.

"This grant will enhance our outreach efforts by connecting us with grassroot individuals involved in the community we aim to help while simultaneously promoting job development skills," stated the executive director of StLRS, Lydia Ramirez. "Health Net's funding to our health initiative helps StLRS achieve its goal of promoting community health. When families have access to healthcare benefits and nutritious foods, it strengthens them and their children. They are better prepared to attend school, learn, and obtain higher education."

The Community Promotores Initiative will recruit individuals as volunteers within the community who have a close relationship with the obstacles and struggles their community faces regarding health knowledge and accessibility. Their unique connection to their community will make them effective in increasing the awareness of health insurance benefits, social services, food assistance programs, and preventative health topics. Aside from addressing community health, this initiative will also invest in our Promotores by providing them training, skill development workshops, and work experience, thus preparing them for careers in the healthcare industry.

Promotores will conduct workshops and outreach events at locations that are regularly accessed by community members, such as schools, neighborhoods, and local churches. The initiative is an extension of StLRS' work to connect individuals to government-sponsored programs such as Medi-Cal, Covered California, and CalFresh.

For the past six years, StLRS has served thousands of families within the community through free services aimed at increasing the awareness of healthcare benefits and social programs, as well as application assistance, case management, and advocacy.

StLRS confronts the urgent need for clients to get connected and enrolled into healthcare benefits and food assistance programs daily. With the generous grant from Health Net and the launch of the Community Promotores Initiative, StLRS will be able to expand its efforts to address the health inequities in marginalized communities across LA County.

Interested individuals should email with their interest to shernandez@ stlrs.org or call (844) 245-1900. StLRS is also hosting information sessions on the following dates: Thursday, October 13, 5:30 - 6:30 pm; Saturday, October 15, 12:00 - 1:00 pm; Monday, October 17, 12:00 - 1:00 pm; Friday, October 21, 12:00 - 1:00 pm; Tuesday, October 25, 5:30 - 6:30 pm; Saturday, October 29, 12:00 - 1:00 pm.

Meals will be provided at all information sessions. Future information sessions will be announced on our website at www.stlrs.org.

How I'm voting on CA propositions and the upcoming election

By Mario A. Guerra

California voters will be asked to weigh in on seven statewide ballot measures in the upcoming election, the fewest measures in an election year since 1916. (In November 2020, for example, voters determined the fate of 12 statewide ballot measures.)

Two of the seven deal with gambling (26 and 27), one is a rehash of kidney dialysis centers (Prop 29), one deals with abortions (Prop 1), one deals with flavored tobacco products (Prop 31), one is about money designated for music and arts in school (Prop 28) and one is about charging higher taxes from the wealthy to pay for electric cars charging stations (Prop 30).

In Downey we will also be voting whether to tax ourselves an additional $500,000,000 for another bond for our school district and another $450,000,000 for a different bond for Cerritos College buildings. Yes, you read it right, $500 million plus $450 million. Downey residents will vote to tax themselves (or not) an additional $950 million onto our property tax bills.

Since we are still paying for two bonds for Downey Unified and another one from Cerritos College, I will be voting no on both. While DUSD is a very good steward of our funds and a well-managed district, the timing along with inflation and cost make it wrong to be asking us to vote on this now.

I have been asked to write a brief description of each proposition. I usually do this every election. I do not ask anyone to vote any particular way, but I will let you know how I'm voting. I am not involved, nor do I work with anyone involved in any of the propositions, on either side. My vote is based on my personal beliefs, knowledge, and experience.

I do ask everyone to do their own research and vote after making a review of each proposition. It is also interesting to think about the influence the ballot designation has and what the proposition actually is doing. Knowing who supports and opposes each proposition is also fascinating and, in some cases, mildly funny. But rest assured, there is a lot of money spent on each proposition, both ways, and we should be informed of this.

Some propositions of the past are very telling. Do we remember in our last election the proposition that was put on the ballot by the realtor's association. The one that basically took away the right to leave your house to your children without a new tax assessment unless they moved into the house? It was also promoted as money going to our firemen and to fight fires and wildfires. There were lots of commercials with fake firemen stating how good these new funds would be used to save property and our planet. So now we ask, how much money has been raised or spent on these activities? Nothing. Not one cent. Firefighters are now weighing in again on one of this year's propositions.

We need to read the fine print sometimes and look beyond the phony or misleading advertising we see during election season.

Hence my point, we have a responsibility to inform ourselves or we get what is let down by fancy TV commercials and special interest groups. This is my reason for writing this every election season, just trying to bring up the facts and information. You, the informed voter, should decide.

And to put my views and voting record into perspective I do think my background is important to know too because it does influence how I personally vote.

Some facts about me...I am an immigrant refugee who came to this country at an early age. I consider myself a moderate in most of my political views. I served on the Downey City Council for 8 years and as Mayor twice. I am a Catholic Clergy and serve as a Chaplain for the Downey Police Department for the past 20 years. I am a homeowner in Downey for over 40 years and raised all 5 of our kids here. I have 4 grandchildren, two of which live in Downey. Our 8-year-old grandson is in the 3rd grade and attends public school here in the Downey Unified School District. I'm what you call a high propensity voter, or likely to vote. I hope this helps you.

It has a second a string and in California We as the second and

Here is a "plain English" rundown of the seven statewide ballot measures on California's 2022 ballot:

Proposition 1

Official Title: Constitutional Right to Reproductive Freedom. Legislative Constitutional Amendment.

Plain English Translation: Eliminates Any Restrictions on When Abortions Can Be Performed

Prop 1 is being sold publicly as merely a codification of a pro-choice position in the California state constitution, but it actually goes far further than that. The actual text of this ballot measure would repeal the current ban on abortions after 23 weeks of a pregnancy and allow the right to a late-term abortion up to the moment of birth. Proposition 1 would give California one of the most extreme abortion laws in the country. This measure may also interfere with existing state laws that allow for Sexually Violent Predators to be placed under mandatory treatment to limit their sex drive. Abortions will continue to be legal in California whether this passes or not. But it is too extreme, even for our state. I will be voting NO.

Proposition 26

Official Title: Allows In-Person Roulette, Dice Games, Sports Wagering on Tribal Lands. Initiative Constitutional Amendment and Statute.

Plain English Translation: Protects and expands non-competition on Tribal Gaming Rights, and allows Trial Lawyers to file more lawsuits through expansion of the Private Attorneys General Act (PAGA)

Prop 26 affirms the current practice of allowing only federally recognized Native American tribes to operate roulette, dice games, and sports wagering on tribal lands, subject to compacts negotiated by the Governor and ratified by the Legislature. It would also allow on-site sports wagering at privately operated horse-racing tracks in specified counties for ages 21 and up. Unfortunately, the measure contains a "poison pill" to expand the use of the Private Attorneys General Act (PAGA) to allow trial attorneys to file frivolous lawsuits that harm small businesses. I will be voting NO on 26.

Proposition 27

Official Title: Allows Online and Mobile Sports Wagering Outside Tribal Lands. Initiative Constitutional Amendment and Statute.

Plain English Translation: Allows Private Businesses to Engage in Online Gambling to Compete with Native American Tribes

Proposition 27 would expand gambling in California beyond casinos currently operated by Native American tribes by allowing private businesses to operate online and mobile sports wagering for persons 21 and up. Native American tribes say this competition from private businesses will undermine their ability to fund programs for their tribes. Backers of the measure say they would impose a special tax on these new forms of gambling with revenue allegedly going toward homeless aid programs.

Who is behind Prop 27? Private gaming giants are behind this proposition of course. But online gambling is legal in many states, and it is fairly simple to do so from California now. So, it really comes down to your personal preference and whether you think regulating online gambling and taxing it for California intentions is worth it. While I don't gamble personally, I do not have a problem with us taxing gambling and having some new funds for our state projects. I am voting YES on 27.

Proposition 28

earmark will have to come at the expense of other educational programs for fundamental academic areas like reading, writing and math. 1% doesn't sound like a lot but it really is. While arts and music programs are important and worthy of funding, Prop 28 is flawed as currently written and could lead to budget cuts in core education programs. I will be voting NO on 28.

Proposition 29

Official Title: Requires On-Site Licensed Medical Professional At Kidney Dialysis Clinics And Establishes Other State Requirements. Initiative Statute

Plain English Translation: Imposes Costly Regulations on Kidney Dialysis Clinics to Benefit Organized Labor Unions Who Have Asked Voters Before

Prop 29 may be familiar to voters since it has been rejected twice before in 2018 and 2020. Why does it keep appearing on the ballot? Wealthy labor unions force the measure on the ballot in an attempt to impose new costly regulations on kidney dialysis clinics that would benefit the interests of the unions. Prop 29 requires specific medical personnel on site during treatment at outpatient kidney dialysis clinics - whether or not the personnel are even needed. The measure also increases mandatory state reporting and prohibits clinics from closing or reducing services without state approval. A "no" vote keeps doctors and clinics more independent from state control. Since I have a Type 1 diabetic son I know how important it is to keep medical treatment stable that is working. I will be voting NO on 29, again.

Proposition 30

Official Title: Provides Funding for Programs to Reduce Air Pollution And Prevent Wildfires by Increasing Tax on Personal Income Over $2 Million.

Plain English Translation: Tax Increase Funded and Proposed BY Lyft to Help Themselves- Increases Income Taxes to Fund a Variety of New Government Programs That Even Governor Newsom Opposes

Prop 30 is a massive income tax increase - even though California already has the highest income taxes in the country of any state. Prop 30 imposes a 1.75% tax increase for personal incomes over $2 million. Revenue for the proposition aims to go toward climate change measures, but the definition of programs eligible for these new funds is quite broad as to allow the funds to be used in a wide-range of ways. This initiative was put on the ballot by Lyft to be self-serving.

The list of those who support and those who oppose make for some interesting conversation too. Supported by Lyft, several trade unions, and the California Democratic party. Opposed by Governor Newsom (he called it a Trojan horse and terrible law), the California Teachers Association, the California Republican Party and the Howard Jarvis Taxpayer Association. You may never see these groups against the same cause together again. Yes, politics can make you laugh out loud at times. I will be voting NO on 30.

Proposition 31

Official Title: Referendum on 2020 Law that Would Prohibit the Retail Sale of Certain Flavored Tobacco Products.

Plain English Translation: Should California Ban the Sale of Flavored Tobacco?

Prop 31 is a "referendum" or question on whether a proposed state law should be implemented or rejected. State Senate Bill, SB 793, which prohibits the retail sale of certain flavored tobacco products and tobacco flavor enhancers. A "yes" vote would uphold and pass the law into effect, banning the retail sale of these flavored tobacco products. A "no" vote would overturn the law and tobacco companies would be allowed to sell flavored tobacco products in the state. We already have strict tobacco laws, including age restrictions — which should take care of several gateway drug concerns. I generally do not like government taking away choices or preferences on already heavily regulated items. For those reasons I will be voting NO on 31.

It happens every election cycle in California. We voters open our ballots to find a long list of ballot measures with confusing ballot titles. The process leaves most voters frustrated, if not angry.

It shouldn't be this way. The non-partisan National Conference of State Legislatures (NCSL) recommends that initiative titles and summaries should be "concise, accurate, and impartial." Sadly, in California the politicians try to manipulate the vote by giving favorable titles and summaries to ballot measures they like and unfavorable titles and summaries to ballot measures they don't like.

You must be careful and know what you're voting for - especially because this year there are hidden tax increases on the ballot and competing gambling initiatives as well.

Official Title: Provides Additional Funding For Arts And Music Education In Public Schools. Initiative Statute.

Plain English Translation: Earmarks Mandatory Funding from the Existing State Education Budget for Arts and Music Programs which could take away from the Basics Core Curriculums of Math and Reading.

Prop 28 is an earmark - or a requirement that the state spend at least a certain amount of funds from the state budget for the exclusive benefit of art and music programs. The earmark mandates that 1% of required state and local funding for public schools be set aside for arts and music programs and then allocates a greater proportion of the funds to schools serving more economically disadvantaged students. # Blanca Pacheco for state Assembly

By Eric Pierce

As someone who has known Downey Mayor Blanca Pacheco for more than a decade, since before she was elected to public office, there are things I can say about her with absolute certainty:

She is honest.

She enjoys helping others.

She never intended to be a politician.

The Downey Patriot is published weekly by The Downey Patriot, Inc. Controlled Distribution, 25,000 copies are printed. Distributed by CIPS Marketing Group, Inc., Los Angeles, CA. Pacheco, a Democrat, is one of two candidates for the 64th state Assembly district. Her opponent is Republican Raul Ortiz Jr. If elected, Pacheco would be the first Downey resident to serve in the state Assembly.

But Pacheco making history for the City of Downey is a convenient bonus, not a selling point. The truth is that Pacheco is the more qualified candidate, the more experienced candidate, and the candidate best equipped to advocate for her constituents in Sacramento.

Pacheco is a practicing attorney and real estate broker. She was elected to the Downey City Council in 2016 and was elected mayor in 2020, helping lead Downey's recovery from the COVID-19 pandemic. As mayor, she spearheaded a rent moratorium for both commercial and residential tenants, helping families stay in their homes and small businesses stay open.

Pacheco's upbringing is a story of perseverance, not privilege. The daughter of a nurse and school bus driver, she attended elementary school in Cudahy and then middle school and high school in Downey. As a teenager, Pacheco spent weekends with her dad mowing lawns to make extra money. She and her dad, Gonzalo, also taught karate.

Pacheco went on to earn her bachelor's degree in political science from UCLA, with a specialization in chicano/a studies. Then came Loyola Law School; she passed the California State Bar exam in 2003.

After law school, Pacheco worked as a substitute teacher in the Downey Unified School District. She also worked as a part-time paralegal instructor at Downey Adult School.

As an attorney, Pacheco has worked in municipal law and estate planning. She donates her time and services, often helping low-income, mostly Spanish speaking families.

But more important than Pacheco's biography are her plans for the state of California. One of her priorities is reducing homelessness and she plans to do this through policy that supports the construction of affordable housing.

"I'll also work to reduce homelessness by advancing compassionate policies like investing in supportive and permanent housing, mental health services, job-training, and more, to provide resources to those in need while helping to get people off the streets and into housing," Pacheco said.

Other priorities include:

Creation of middle class jobs -- "Nobody in California should work a full 40 hour work-week and still live in poverty," she said. "That's why in the State Assembly, I'll work to ensure livable wages for California's working people, protect workers' rights and their ability to form or join a union ... "

Funding public education -- "I strongly support ensuring highquality early education and universal pre-K for all children," she said. Pacheco also supports free community college for California residents.

Combating climate change -- "In the State Assembly, I'll work to protect our environment and address climate change, while safeguarding clean air and clean water for our communities," Pacheco said. "I believe we can protect and create good jobs, and simultaneously ensure a cleaner, safer environment for all Californians if we work together."

Affordable healthcare -- Pacheco supports expanding access to healthcare and protecting women's reproductive rights. "I also believe we must lower the cost of prescription drugs as nobody in our community should be forced to choose between paying for healthcare or medicine and putting food on the table for their family," she said.

Enhancing infrastructure – "I will work to invest more in infrastructure, from upgrading and expanding mass transit to universal broadband to clean energy technologies, modernizing our transportation hubs, roads and bridges and more," she said. "These investments will not only help ensure the long-term competitiveness of our economy and level the playing field for so many disadvantaged communities, but it will also create countless good paying, middle class jobs."

It's clear that Pacheco's political ideologies swing left, which will satisfy the majority of residents living in the newly-drawn 64th assembly district encompassing Downey, Bell, Bell Gardens, Cudahy, La Habra, La Mirada, Los Nietos, Norwalk, Santa Fe Springs and South Whittier.

But on the City Council, Pacheco has proven herself a moderate willing to work with people of all political parties. She supports law enforcement and has been endorsed by Republicans, Democrats and independents.

Blanca Pacheco has dedicated her adult life to helping her neighbors and community. She will be missed on the Downey city council but the time is right for a promotion to the state legislature.

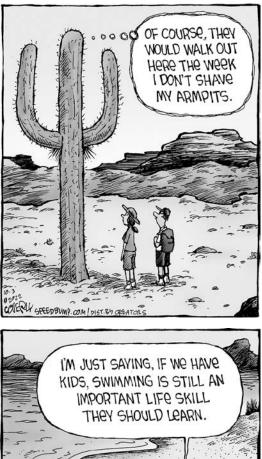

She will make Downey proud.

By John M. Sherrard Contributor

DOWNEY – The Warren High School Girls Volleyball team kept on rolling and remain perfect in the Gateway League in the Suburban Valley Conference with a sweep of Mayfair, 3-0, Tuesday (October 4).

With the win, the Bears sit atop the league with a 6-0 record and are 13-5 overall.

With only two matches remaining in league play, Warren is geared for a run in the CIF-Southern Section playoffs, which begin a little more than a week.

The Bears are coming off of a second-place finish last season in the final year of the San Gabriel Valley League, in which they finished second with an 8-2 record to Downey, which won the league at 10-0.

"We had a pretty good team last year," said Warren coach Scott Lane, who has been at Warren for 14 years.

Warren defeated Nordhoff, 3-0, in the first round of CIF Division 5, but fell to Bishop Amat in the second round.

The current roster for the Bears consists of eight seniors, one junior and four sophomores.

"We have a senior-based team, which has been together since middle school," Lane said.

Four of those seniors have played together since middle school, since they were in the 7th grade – Mayra Gonzalez, Litzy Flores, Sabrina Santos and Jaylynn Fierro.

"All of the girls on the team have good chemistry on and off the court," he added. "In league, we are 6-0, despite more than half of our team having two-plus years in club experience.

As for the match, the Bears accomplished what they needed to stay above the rest in league.

"I think, literally, we won the serve and pass game pretty well," Lane said. "Mayfair is a talented team and they have some good athletes

Leading the way for Warren was senior opposite Fierro, with a match-high 10 kills. She also had seven service aces.

"Jaylynn is very good at every position," Lane added. "She can set, pass and serve well. She is super knowledgeable about the game. She does everything well.

"I believe she is a candidate for MVP of the league."

In the first set, Fierro had a service run of 15 points, six of which were aces.

'The rest of the kids are playing really well and they are getting better," Lane added. "I think the kids we have this year are so good. They have bought into the system. This year we needed to have everyone handle the ball well."

Earlier in the season, the Bears went the distance with Cypress in five sets, losing in the fifth, 16-14 and in the Bellflower Tournament they were 3-3.

The final two games of the season will determine if Warren can win the league title, as Downey (15-7) is one game behind Warren with a 5-1 record in league.

As for the league, Lane knows how even it can be. "I think our league is pretty good and I never take a win for granted."

Lane, in his 14 years said: "Every team I have put together, it's a team under 6'.

"If you can serve and pass, you can play with anybody.'

next week. The Vikings will play at Warren on Tuesday, which could determine the league title. They also end the regular season at home against Paramount.

"(Downey) is very well coached," Lane said. "It's going to be a challenge.

"A lot of pride is on both sides. It's going to be in our house and there are great fans at Warren. Even at Warren it's a packed house.

This month is Breast Cancer Awareness Month and Warren

Activities Director Andrea Sims makes sure it's a big event.

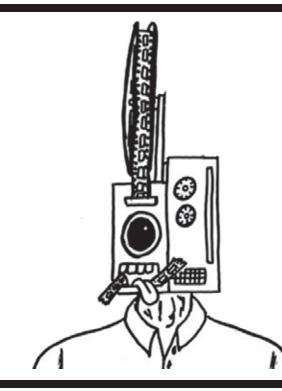

"She puts on the "Dig Pink" game for Cancer Awareness," Lane added. "The kids are excited to play in that game.<sup>3</sup>

Both coaches played at a high level nearly at the same time, as Lane was at Brigham Young University and Downey coach Shawn Patchell played at Long Beach State University.

Warren played Gahr on Thursday (Oct. 6 – results unavailable at press time).

Downey can't afford wishy-washy candidates

• OPINION: There is too much at stake in Downey to elect candidates who don't offer clear answers to important auestions.

and Eric Pierce of the Talking Downey podcast laid out several of the issues the city is currently facing: everything from the hotel occupancy tax and the Downey Unified School District Bond, all the way down to the widening of our freeways and Ojos Locos.

Candidates were asked to state if they supported each topic with a ves or no answer, and then could elaborate as much or as little as they wanted. If their answer was too muddled or vague, either Guerra or Pierce would ask for simple clarification.

Yes or no?

The strategy was to get each candidate officially on record on various topics. Too often, politicians say a lot while saying absolutely nothing. At the very least, they try not to take an obvious side.

Candidates Joaquin Beltran, Art Montoya, and Dr. Anthony Felix were probably the worst offenders on Tuesday. Still, if you've read any of my candidate stories from over the last several weeks, you'd see that every candidate - every single one - has been guilty of being wishy-washy at some point this campaign season.

From a strategy standpoint, I get it: candidates don't want to risk peeving off a potential voter and losing their vote, or even - as Felix alluded to Tuesday - alienate themselves from their future colleagues.

Those are fair points, albeit not great ones.

Here's why. Downey has no time left for indecision, for wishy-washy, for campaign strategy. Our city has been described as in "transition." May I offer a different word that starts with "T."

Turmoil

We are very likely to lose our mayor to the state assembly by year's end. Our Mayor Pro Tem is fighting for her political life with a recall election on the horizon. Two seats will be decided next month; one is already guaranteed to provide a rookie councilmember.

We still do not have a permanent City Manager, and interim City Manager Mark Scott is limited on the number of hours he can work due to CalPERS. His limit may carry him through the calendar year, but it will most certainly expire before the end of the fiscal year.

That's before acknowledging the slew of other administration staff that have either already left, will be leaving, or are rumored to be leaving soon. Many of those positions will also need to be solidified, however it is unlikely to happen until the new city manager is selected.

With so many hanging questions at Downey's top, voters need and deserve to be as informed as possible on Nov. 8.

Candidates who are not straightforward and clear, who say

"it depends," or who choose not to answer do a disservice, both to themselves and to the constituents they are attempting to sway.

As residents, we don't expect to always agree with you, nor do we expect that you will always agree with the rest of the council should you be elected.

That's democracy. That's why there are five of you up there on the dais.

We want to know your viewpoints. We want to know where you stand - clearly - and why.

At a time where there is so much at stake in Downey, it helps to know the person who's box you're checking on election day.

The candidates forum can currently be watched on the Downey Patriot Facebook.

Problems with Hurricanes

A campesino looked at the air And told me: With hurricanes it's not the wind or the noise or the water. I'll tell you he said: it's the mangoes, avocados Green plantains and bananas flying into town like projectiles. How would your family feel if they had to tell The generations that you got killed by a flying Banana. Death by drowning has honor If the wind picked you up and slammed you Against a mountain boulder This would not carry shame But to suffer a mango smashing Your skull or a plantain hitting your Temple at 70 miles per hour is the ultimate disgrace. The campesino takes off his hat-As a sign of respect toward the fury of the wind And says: Don't worry about the noise Don't worry about the water Don't worry about the wind-If you are going out beware of mangoes And all such beautiful sweet things.

Newsom signs 8 of Archula's bills

■ The governor agreed to sign eight pieces of legislation authored by Downey's state senator, Bob Archuleta.

DOWNEY -Eight bills authored by State Sen. Bob Archuleta (D-Pico Rivera) and passed by the California Legislature to address issues ranging from veterans affairs to public safety have been signed into law by Governor Newsom.

Archuleta represents Downey in the state senate.

"I applaud the Newsom administration for signing eight of my bills into law that will improve public and professional emission sites available to hydrogen and Fire Protection's (CAL FIRE's) fuel cell vehicles, and help support Office of the State Fire Marshal the households of active duty military service members," said Archuleta. "From best practices when handling lead paint during renovation work, to my ongoing efforts as chair of the Hydrogen Committee making Energy transportation healthier, safer and better for all Californians, I am proud to have delivered a diverse range of legislative wins. '

The eight bills are summarized below:

LA's eviction moratorium has expiration date

agreed to allow its ban on renter evictions to expire at the end of January.

LOS ANGELES -Los Angeles' long-standing renter eviction protections due to COVID-19 hardship will be lifted at the end of January, the City Council decided unanimously Tuesday.

The council voted 12-0 to approve a package of recommendations from a council committee, following a spirited public comment session that featured both tenants advocating for continued protections and mom-and-pop landlords pleading for the restrictions to end.

Under the council action, landlords will be able to resume increasing rent on rent-controlled apartments, which account for three-quarters of the units in Los Angeles, beginning in February 2024.

Council President Nury Martinez called the vote a compromise that "preserves the livelihood of our renters while still transitioning from COVID- era protections to permanent tenant protections."

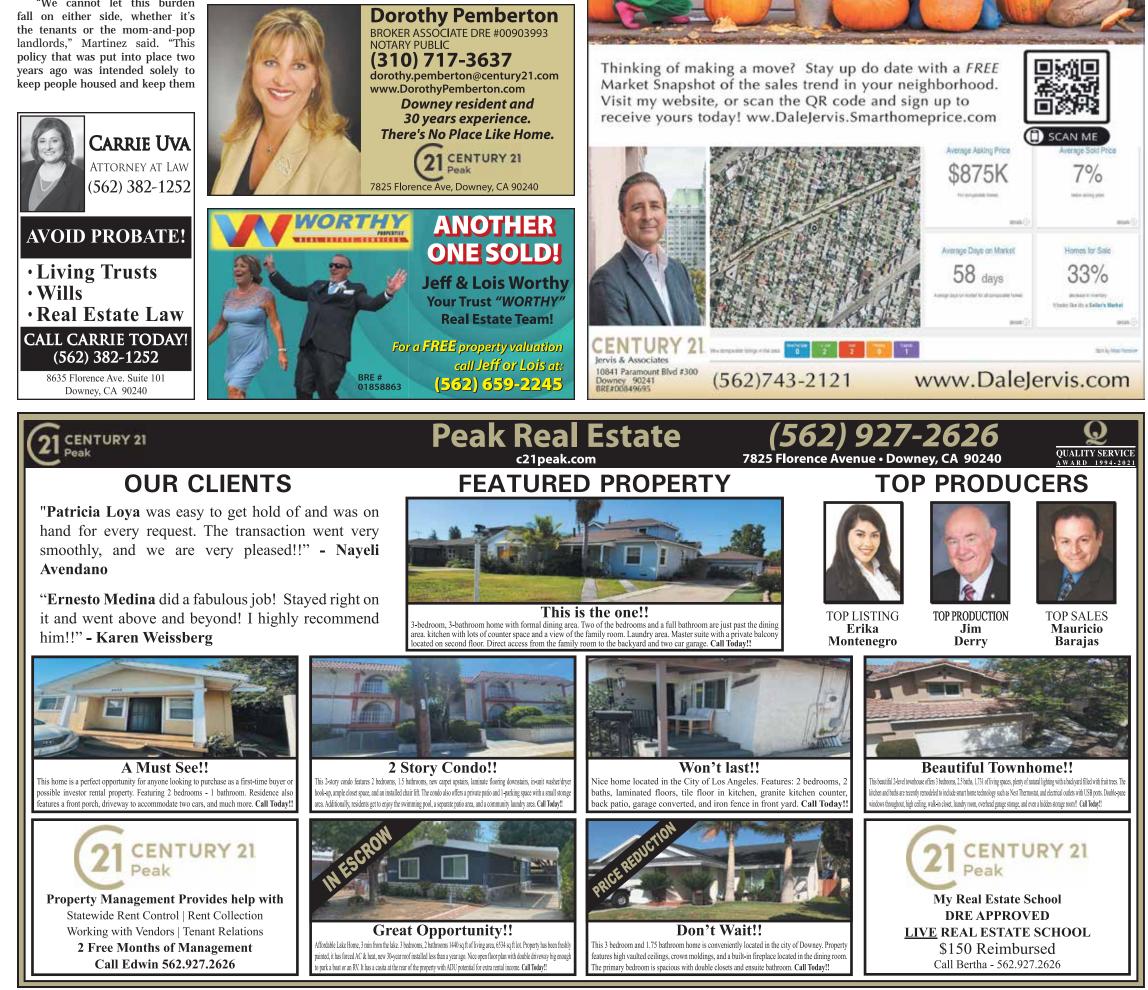

"We cannot let this burden

For the past few months, council members have grappled to balance the needs of renters and landlords. Housing groups believe ending the moratorium will place thousands of families impacted landlords claim current conditions are different from those at the onset of the pandemic and renters should a Tenants' Bill of Rights and data no longer be able to use COVID-19 collection and tracking of all hardship as a reason to eschew paying rent.

Tenants who have missed payments since March 2020 will have to meet two re-payment deadlines. Under state law, they have until Aug. 1, 2023, to pay back missed rent between March 1, 2020, and Sept. 30, 2021. Under the city's moratorium, tenants will have until Feb. 1, 2024, to re-pay rent accumulated from Oct. 1, 2021 to Feb. 1, 2023.

"Rental housing providers are not in the eviction business," Sutton said. "But eviction is unfortunately for resolving the most disruptive situations or when someone is not being compensated."

A property owner who identified himself as Wayne Harris told the council that landlords should not be blamed for the pandemic. Harris said if the council wanted to continue the moratorium, it should also find a way to compensate landlords, noting that landlords can also get COVID-19 and become at risk of homelessness.
