Hospitals hope to avoid fall Covid surge

 Hospitizations are slowly increasing across the state; Covid cases have jumped the past two fall seasons.

By City News Service

DOWNEY - The number of COVID-19-positive patients in Los Angeles County hospitals rose again Wednesday, with state figures showing the number again rising above 400.

The number of COVID-positive patients has bounced up and down in recent weeks, with health officials closely watching the figures as they hope to avoid another winter surge of virus infections, hospitalizations and deaths.

According to state figures, there were 427 COVID-positive patients in county hospitals as of Wednesday, up from 388 on Tuesday. Of those patients, 48 were being treated in intensive care units.

County officials have said that about 40% of COVID-positive patients were actually admitted to hospitals due to virus-related illness, while the others were admitted for other reasons, and in many cases only learning they were infected when they were tested at the hospital.

On Tuesday, the county reported 868 new COVID infections, giving the county a cumulative total from throughout the pandemic of 3,489,106. The number of cases released by the county each day is an undercount of actual COVID activity, due to the wide-spread use of at-home tests, the results of which are generally not reported to the county.

deaths were also reported Tuesday, 33,981.

The seven-day average daily rate of people testing positive for the virus in the county was 4.4% as of Tuesday, according to the Los Angeles County Department of Public Health.

Public Health Director Barbara Ferrer told reporters last week that the county has seen slight upticks over the past week in some virustracking metrics, most notably the weekly infection rate, after months of steady declines. She said the increases were not an immediate cause for concern, but officials plan to closely monitor the trends heading into cooler winter months, which have led to surges in cases the past two years.

Downey tops La Mirada in final game before playoffs

Downey heads to Santa Barbara to open postseason competition Friday.

By John Sherrard Contributor

NORWALK – With the CIF-Southern Section playoffs set to begin tonight (Friday, Nov. 4), two teams - Downey and La Mirada high schools – are heading in two different directions.

Downey, which defeated La Mirada, 43-21, last Friday (Oct. 28), will take a road trip to Santa Barbara (9-1) for a first-round game in Division 4, while La Mirada (4-6, 2-3) ends its season.

season in inaugural Gateway about." League action, Downey (8-2) finished second to Warren (9-1) and the Matadores finished in fourth place with a 2-3 record. Warren travels to Sierra Canyon in Division 2.

(La Mirada) really punched us in that first half," Downey Football coach Jack Williams said. "They controlled the tempo and tried to keep our offense off the field.

"I thought we reacted in the second half and did some things. I love where we are at right now. We got smacked in the mouth a few weeks ago (Loss to Warren, 49-22) and responded (Win over Mayfair, 38-15). The game, played at Excelsior High School, saw the Matadores tied midway through the third period, 21-21, with Downey. However, two late TDs in the third and one in the fourth by the Vikings led to a Downey win.

"Downey is a really good football program with a lot of speed and physical," La Mirada Football coach Mike Moschetti said. "In the first half we played with emotion, but Downey is just tougher and more physical and more athletic than us.

"We hung in there for a little bit, but it just wasn't good enough. Defensively, we were on our heels all night. They were running it, they were throwing it and pretty much could do whatever they wanted."

Leading the way for Downey was senior quarterback Aidan Chiles (16 of 20, 202 yards, TD). Chiles, who has committed to Oregon State, also ran for 73 yards on five carries and two touchdowns.

Downey senior running back Jaylen Crutchfield carried the ball eight times for 64 yards and a touchdown and also caught one pass for 41 yards. Senior running back Keion Andrew carried the ball five times for 49 yards and a touchdown. He also had seven solo tackles and one assist.

Seven players caught passes for Chiles, with senior wide receiver Bryant Carey connecting for seven receptions for a game-high 104 yards and a score. Carey also had six solo tackles and three assists.

Junior wide receiver Manuel Albidrez had four catches for 59 yards.

La Mirada was led by senior running back CJ Zackery with 114 yards on 24 carries and a touchdown, while senior running back Denver Stillman ran for 33 yards on 10 carries and two touchdowns. Defensively, Stillman had five solo tackles and four assists.

Garcia was 12 for 19 for 56 yards for the Matadores.

La Mirada senior wide receiver Xavier Hicks caught eight passes for 41 yards.

Downey got in the scoring quarter with a 15-yard TD run by Crutchfield. The score was Crutchfields sixth of the season.

Strillman scored the first of his two touchdowns for La Mirada later in the quarter on a two-yard run up the middle to tie the game, 7-7. The score culminated a long drive that ate up clock time.

"We limited big plays by Downey in the first quarter,"

Moschetti added.

Downey came right back early in the second quarter to take the lead again with the first of two running TDs by Chiles. Chiles, who has six rushing touchdowns this season, scored on a 30-yard run for the 14-7 lead with 9:12 left in the half.

Downey added another score near the end of the quarter at 1:16, as sophomore quarterback Logan Bledsoe completed a 52-yard pass to Carey, his 15th touchdown of the season.

Chiles another added touchdown pass - his 25th of the season - to Crutchfield. It was a 39-yard score.

On the season for Chiles, who will be throwing passes for the Beavers at Oregon State soon, he totaled 2,217 yards with only three interceptions.

DOWNEY – In the recently completed Gateway League Tennis Individuals, both Warren and Downey high schools are well represented in the upcoming CIF-Southern Section Sectionals beginning November 21.

Both schools were Co-Champions in league with identical 7-1 records.

Warren finished first in 2021 in the final year of the San Gabriel Valley League with a perfect 15-0 record.

The CIF-Southern Section team playoffs began this week. Warren (8-3), which is in Division 3, lost to Sage Hill, 17-1, and Downey (9-2), in Division 4, lost to Providence/SB in a close 10-8 match.

In the Downey-Providence match, No. 1 singles Camila Guzman won all three of her sets and in the doubles, junior Aneris Ortega and sophomore Joanne Yu won two of three sets. (No results were available for Warren).

In the meantime, the Gateway League Individuals got underway this week in singles and doubles competition.

Finishing first in singles was Bellflower senior Mary Urdinario, who was 47-1 overall and 24-0 in league. Norwalk senior Sarai Cruz (16-0 in league) was second and Warren sophomore Jeilyn Rodriguez (16-6) was third.

move on to the CIF Sectionals and Rodriguez is an alternate.

In the doubles, Ortega/Yu were first and finished with a 23-0 record in league and 30-2 overall. Placing second were sophomores Madeline Saldana and Samantha De La Rosa of Warren with 22-2 league record. The doubles team of sophomore Camila Partida and senior Alyssa Hernandez (19-5) finished third.

Ortega/Yu and Saldana/De La Rosa will move on to the CIF Sectionals and Partida/Hernandez are alternates.

In the Mid-Cities League, which is the other league in the Suburban Valley Conference, Sarah Villalta (27-0), Roma Vashi (27-2) and Daleyna Le (11-1) placed 1-2-3 in singles. All three are from Mayfair.

In doubles competition, Mayfair again swept the competition with all three places. 1st -- Makayla Sotha/ Arianna Zavala (24-0), 2nd - Aileen Romero/Michelle Vu (27-0), 3rd Jocelyn Mendoza/Izel Ramirez (11-0).

In the first two days of competition in the Gateway League singles and doubles competition, the first and second rounds were held

After two days of tennis, it's only fitting that the top two teams in the Gateway League had positioned themselves in six of the eight spots in the singles and doubles emifinals

In Monday's singles action, one half of the semifinal spot was filled by Warren senior Samantha Pinedo.

The other half of the semifinal bracket was Warren sophomore Jeilyn Rodriguez against Norwalk's Sarai Cruz

"(Jeilyn) is probably my best player," Warren Girls Tennis coach Ray Trejo said. "Last year I moved her up and down the whole year.

"My goal was to have her on JV Both Urdinario and Cruz will the whole time, but I understood the fact that she was a little shy and she wanted to be with her friends. Honestly, I didn't really need her to move up so fast, but I knew that coming into this year I was going to need her points."

> The Doubles semifinals, however, was an all Downey-Warren affair, with each side of the bracket facing teammates against each other.

Downey Girls Tennis coach Micah Karzen, who has been the varsity coach for five years and before that an assistant for seven, explained the unique scenario that took place in the doubles semifinals.

"Warren's one and two will be against each other and my (Downey) one and three will play each other," explained Karzen. "The two winners will play for the league title and both of those teams -Downey and Warren – will advance to the CIF playoffs as individuals."

In one semifinal were Downey teammates Ortega and Yu facing teammates senior Isabel Park and junior Stephanie Torres.

"(Tuesday) we beat them (Warren) for the win," Torres said.

The other half were Warren round 2. teammates Hernandez and Partida facing teammates Saldana and De La Rosa.

The first three rounds of the league finals, the winner is the first to eight wins.

traditional best of three sets, with 2. the third set a 10-point tie breaker.

Monday's singles On competition, Pinedo won her first and second round matches with identical 8-2 scores to advance to the semifinals.

In the other half of the competition in the singles, Rodriguez won her two matches, 8-1 in round 1 and 8-3 over freshman Bethany Herrera of Downey in Another Downey player didn't make it out of the second round as sophomore San Tia fell to No. 2 Seed Cruz.

In the doubles on Day 1 on Tuesday in the first round, Ortega/ In the finals, it was the Yu had a bye and won 8-5 in round

> In that second-round match, it was tied, 5-5, much to the surprise of Karzen.

> "It just looked like they were a little nervous and they didn't play as well as they could in the first few games of the set," Karzen said.

Opinion

Let's say a permanent goodnight to daylight saving time

By Heather Turgeon and Julie Wright

Earlier this year, the Senate passed a bill to make daylight saving time permanent. The idea of ending clock changes and sticking to one time was met with celebration — until scientists pointed out that such a change could cause a nationwide case of seasonal depression, learning loss and physical health problems.

Now the Sunshine Protection Act sits with the House. But as we prepare to change our clocks this November — and with news of Mexico mostly opting out of daylight saving time, effective this past weekend (the exceptions: towns and cities on the U.S. border) — the idea is sure to be debated again. Popular opinion supports getting rid of clock changes, and for good reason — they're disorienting and disruptive. But eternal daylight saving time is not the answer. Especially if we want to protect young people.

Humans evolved outside, in nature, and our brain clocks are exquisitely attuned to the sun. Standard time is an approximation of the solar day and is more or less in line with the rising and setting sun. Decades of research shows we're at our best when we live harmoniously this way.

Daylight saving time, on the other hand, is essentially mandated jet lag. Permanent daylight time would leave us perpetually out of sync with our powerful internal clocks and would deny us the sun's rays when our brains and bodies need them most: in the mornings.

If the House were to pass the Sunshine Protection Act in its current form, then for the first time in 40 years, the United States would experience daylight saving time in winter. The sun would rise unnaturally late, particularly in the northwestern part of every time zone: 9 a.m. in parts of Texas, 9:15 a.m. in Indiana, 9:45 a.m. in parts of Michigan. Students wouldn't see the sun until well into their school day. This experiment happened in the United States in 1974. People found it so painful, it was abandoned after one winter.

This would all be tremendously bad for kids. Because of the later biological pacing of the teenage brain, waking at 7 a.m. already feels to young people like waking at 5 a.m. With permanent daylight saving time, it would feel like 4 a.m. This would put a serious strain on teen mental health. The result would be, among other things, shortened sleep for a population that is already severely sleep deprived and a potential uptick in rates of depression, when teens are already struggling with elevated levels of depressive symptoms and suicidal thinking.

And let's not forget: A policy that's bad for teens is bad for the rest of us. Sleep-deprived teens are driving next to us on the freeway. Sleep-deprived teens are twice as likely to experience mental health symptoms, which affect families, schools and health-care systems.

In some parts of the United States, teens are getting relief in the form of later high school start times, which California has pioneered and New York is considering. If the country were to impose permanent daylight saving time, the beneficial effects of these policies would be erased.

I wish the jury had not sentenced my family's killer to death

All of us, children and adults, need morning sun and evening darkness to get enough sleep and to be healthy and happy. Morning sun tells every cell and organ in the body to start its daily work; in our repertoire of daily habits, morning sun is the slam dunk.

Daylight saving time takes this from us. During this period, the majority of people go to bed later, while still having to wake at the same time for school or work, which leads to accumulated sleep debt. The reason our health hasn't deteriorated further is that this happens in spring and summer, when the day length is long and the sun is already up when we wake. Daylight saving time in winter would make every morning a dark, dreary struggle — and people's health and moods would unravel.

Sens. Marco Rubio (R-Fla.), Kyrsten Sinema (D-Ariz.) and others snuck the Sunshine Protection Act through the Senate without review or deliberation. Under the bill, Sinema's Arizona would get to keep its already permanent year-round standard time, which it has had since 1968. (Why Sinema would rejoice at the rest of the country being forced to spring permanently forward is baffling.)

We all enjoy the sun. But in winter, when sunshine is scarce, we don't have the luxury of tinkering with time. Evening sun is for our entertainment. Morning sun is for our health.

Healthier than permanent daylight saving time would be to stick with what we have, changing times twice a year. But healthiest would be for Congress to change the wording of the Sunshine Protection Act to permanent standard time.

It's rare that we have the chance to elevate youth mental health — everyone's health — in a sweeping and immediate way. Permanent standard time would give us this opportunity.

Heather Turgeon and Julie Wright are the authors of "Generation Sleepless: Why Tweens and Teens Aren't Sleeping Enough and How We Can Help Them."

What's wrong with Prop 30?

Dear Editor:

What's not to like about a proposition that promises to reduce greenhouse gas emissions and protect our forests? Oh, and get rich people to pay for it?

Well, this: "Up in Smoke: California's Greenhouse Gas Reductions Could be Wiped Out by 2020 Wildfires," ScienceDirect. com

This study estimates that 18 years of emission reductions were wiped out by one bad fire season. We can electrify massively and still not reduce greenhouse gas emissions until we eliminate California mega-fires.

But doesn't Proposition 30 allocate money for forest management?

Yes, but California only owns 3% of forest land – 57% is federal land, and the remainder is privately owned.

What California needs is better forestry practices throughout its forests. Not the "stop all forest fires" which was the previous federal policy, or the disastrous "let it burn" follow-on federal policy, or "clear-cutting" promoted by timber industries, but selective thinning, recovery of useful timber, on-site pyrolization of the remainder, plus controlled burns. Not just near the urban-wildland interface, where fires threaten lives and destroy homes, but throughout the forest where mega-fires do the most environmental damage. And since it's impossible to thin all of the forests everywhere, priority should be given to creating firebreaks that will reduce the size of mega-fires that consume hundreds of thousands of acres. "Undergrounding" high voltage transmission lines would also help reduce the fires, and replanting damaged areas using pyrolized brush would make reforestation immediate carbon sinks. But needless to say, this needs to happen on federal land as well as state land. The State of California, if it wants to be successful in managing its forests and reducing greenhouse gas emissions, needs to take the initiative from the federal government. Starting with some well-funded, reliable studies on forestry practices to convince the Federal government and EPA that California has a responsible plan to reduce air pollution and to manage federal lands better than the federal government itself.

This week, Nikolas Cruz, who killed 17 people in the 2018 shooting at Marjory Stoneman Douglas High School in Parkland, Fla., will be formally sentenced to life in prison without the possibility of parole, and the families of those who were killed or injured will again have a chance to speak about the irreparable harm done to them.

I understand the anguish some of those families expressed last month after the jury decided to spare the gunman's life. That's because I have sat in a similar courtroom, under similar circumstances. Dylann Roof, a white supremacist, murdered my mother, two cousins and six others in 2015 at Mother Emanuel A.M.E. Church in Charleston, S.C. For that, he was sentenced to death.

I would never tell anyone how to feel in such a situation. I can only share my own story. And having lived through this awful experience — the loss of my loved ones, followed by a trial in which we had to hear about the terrible details of the murders again and to revisit all of the pain — I can say that Mr. Roof's death sentence did not bring my family closure. It only prolonged our agony.

How can families of victims not want vengeance for what the killer has done? I was very conflicted throughout Mr. Roof's trial. It brought me new misery to see such a young man with so much hate in his heart. But by the time the sentencing phase ended, I felt that killing him would do nothing to help me heal. After much prayer and asking God to help me, I knew in my heart that killing him would not solve anything.

Because he was sentenced to death, we are still suffering in ways that could have been avoided. Five years ago, Mr. Roof's first appeal was rejected. It was two years after his crime, but just the experience of that appeal being a headline brought back all of the horror of his violence, renewing our wounds. Every time our case is in the news, I am returned to that terrible day and the searing pain of the weeks, months and years that followed. It almost feels as if he gets to continue the terror he intended to create, because the focus is on him, while his victims' families wait for the supposed finality of an execution that may never come.

This is the unintended but very real consequence of the death penalty. Rather than helping my family heal, Dylann Roof's death sentence has done the opposite.

Based on my experience and that of many others whom I know, some of the families of the Parkland victims may discover that Mr. Cruz's sentence of life in prison brings them more peace in the end. After all, life without the possibility of parole might better be understood as death by incarceration. I certainly agree that such killers should never be free.

I hope that Nikolas Cruz's sentence can be a turning point for the families, that it will allow them to move toward healing. We can never get our loved ones back. But for me, not having the uncertainty of a death sentence hanging over me would make it easier to focus on the positive memories of those I lost.

In the years since Mr. Roof's trial, I have become active in the movement to abolish the death penalty. There are many reasons to oppose it, including that racism and other injustices taint the justice system in the United States. Getting rid of the death penalty also would bring a close to these torturous years of appeals for so many of us.

I pray that God will give the Parkland families comfort, and that God will give Nikolas Cruz the opportunity to understand and accept responsibility for what he has done and that he can find a way to use the remainder of his life for good, even in prison.

For everyone else, I want to say this: Please don't speak for victims and their families or tell us what to think. The most powerful thing that you can do for family members of murder victims is simply to offer authentic and nonjudgmental presence. We just need to know that we have a community around us that is about love.

Mayor lacks qualifications for Assembly

Dear Editor:

Our mayor, Blanca Pacheco, is running for State Assembly. You wouldn't know this except for the abundance of yard signs that dot our city's landscape.

I stated in a previous letter that I would not be voting for Blanca. She has not given me a reason to change my mind.

Where's Blanca? She, as far as I have been able to find out, has not held a Downey campaign rally, not advertised a local meet and greet. She refused to debate her opponent, Raul Ortiz. When asked to participate in a candidate forum at last week's Dia de Los Muertos, she chose to take the stage as mayor but could not bother to walk a few steps to join her opponent for an exchange of ideas. When looking up campaign events, her website lists none. Lastly, she has not knocked on one door in my neighborhood.

Ms. Pacheco is an empty candidate. She lacks passion and ideas. She appears to stand for nothing except getting ahead personally. She is not what Downey or our region needs at this time.

Her lack of backbone was on display when she sided with council member Mario Trujillo to cast the final needed vote to make Catherine Alvarez our mayor pro tem. Imagine a person with a criminal record in line to be our next mayor. We need a person with a passion for what is right, and good. We don't need someone that is taking the easy road to power.

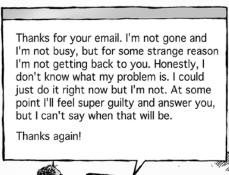

I'm voting for Raul Ortiz for State Assembly. Please join me. Victoria Smith

Mayor highlights positives in State of the City address

 Blanca Pacheco used her State of the City address to highlight Downey's city operations.

By Alex Dominguez Staff Writer

DOWNEY - Mayor Blanca Pacheco addressed community leaders, business owners, and constituents on Thursday during the annual State of the City event held by the Downey Chamber of Commerce.

Though in her second term as mayor, the event – held at the Rio Hondo Event Center – represented Pacheco's first opportunity to give the State of the City presentation. During her first mayoral stint, the event was canceled due to the Covid-19 pandemic.

Pacheco used the opportunity to highlight several of the accomplishments achieved throughout the city and its departments, including its 10th consecutive balanced budget.

She added that the city has also invested $30 million in bonds to accelerate street improvements.

Notably, Downey also hired 42 full-time and 114 part-time employees over the last year, including eight new police officers and five firefighter paramedics. The Downey Police Department also successfully kicked off its inaugural youth academy, a program similar to the long-established citizen's academy for younger residents.

This was also the year that Downey cut the ribbon on its Solar Energy Improvement Project.

Fire station could reopen in February

Downey's northeast fire station has been closed since an electrical fire damaged the facility earlier this year.

DOWNEY - Downey's Fire Station 4 will likely reopen early next year, nearly a full year after an internal fire put the newly renovated facility out of commission.

Fire Station 4 – located at 9349 Florence Ave - has remained empty for most of the year, after faulty wiring caused a fire inside one of the walls of the building on Feb. 25. While no injuries were reported, the incident left the facility significantly damaged, and inhabitable.

Firefighters stationed at Station 4 have since been operating out of Stations 1 and 3.

The fire occurred only several months after the station had been opened following being modernized and renovated as a part of Measure S. Councilwoman Claudia M.

This includes the complete design of the Columbia Memorial Space Center space shuttle specific building. Groundbreaking for the the Columbia Memorial Space Center Inspiration is scheduled for 2023.

Downey, Warren rivalry extends to tennis

"But in the last three they played much better more like themselves and dominated the last three games, like they should have. It's always good when your players have success."

They rallied for three straight wins to win the match, 8-5, sending them to the semi's.

Leading 6-5, in the set, Ortega sent a volley to the open court to go up,7-5. She sent another hard shot for the winner to the wide side of the court for the 8-5 win. The Ortega/Yu combo was a perfect 23-0 in league this season.

"I'm really bad against nerves when I'm really nervous," Yu said. "I started messing up every shot. I started controlling the ball better.

Meanwhile, the second doubles team - Park/Torres won their first-round match over the Gahr team of Ascencio/Mendoza and defeated Warren's team of Kathleen Sanchez/Nandini Vanmali to advance to the semifinals against Ortega/Yu.

"(Tuesday) we beat them (Warren) for the win (first round over Sanchez/Vanmali)," Torres said.

Park compared the competition like the Downey-Warren rivalry in football.

"It feels like a football game again," she said. "I just hope that we win this time.'

Partida defeated the team of Pedraza/Mejia of Bellflower, 8-0 and defeated the Norwalk doubles team of Ortega/Lopez, 8-5, to also advance to the semifinals.

The other half of that bracket is Norwalks' Gonzalez/ Keri against Madeline Saldana/ Samantha De La Rosa of Warren in the first round. Saldana/De La Rosa won, 8-1.

The team of Saldana/De La Rosa is the No. 1 Doubles team and became partners last year.

"I was convinced to join tennis by my partner (Saldana) in middle school," De La Rosa said. "I wanted to play golf, but she said come play with me in tennis. Next thing you know we're playing on varsity in our freshman year.

"Our first match was against "Downey and Warren are Gahr and it was bread sticks," De La Rosa said. Basically, that means that you only gave them one (win).

> Saldana/De La Rosa won that second-round match over Norwalk, 8-2, to advance to face their Downey teammates, Hernandez/Partida.

Trejo explained how the level of play will be next week

"We're going to be playing in division three and Downey will be in division four," said Trejo, of the upcoming team playoffs. "That's going to be tough. Division three is extremely competitive. We just want to compete. My thing with the girls is we compete.

"That's always been the thing with the girls. If you just play the game, whether you lose, 8-0 or win 8-0, or 6-3 or whatever. Just play the game. If you competed, I'm happy with that.

After two weeks of team competition, the Individuals will begin.

Frometa - whose district Station 4 resides in - has expressed frustration with not only the incident itself, but the time it has taken to get the fire station repaired and operational.

"It is unconscionable to have an electrical fire at a fire station, let alone a brand-new fire station," said Frometa. "Unfortunately, due to the abrupt changes in leadership at city hall, the project changed hands various times.

According to Fire Chief Dan Hurlock, the station's repair was originally under the management of former assistant City Manager Jon Oskoui. However, when Oskoui was put on administrative leave (and ultimately retired in a quiet exit from the city), the project was placed in the hands of Public Works Director Delfino Consunji.

"Delfino is finally the individual leading this project, and he is confident we will see the station reopen at the end of January," said Frometa

Livas honored with plaque at Downey Promenade

Downey's former city manager received a plaque honoring his contributions to Downey.

By Alex Dominguez Staff Writer

DOWNEY -The city of Downey honored former city manager Gilbert Livas on Tuesday, unveiling a plaque at the Downey Promenade commemorating his time leading the city.

Members of the City Council, former mayors, city staff, and a handful of local business owners and residents gathered to celebrate Livas, who retired just a few months ago after 14 years with the city, 10 of which at its helm.

"Gil, look around you; this is a true testament of what you meant to Downey," said Mayor Blanca Pacheco

"This is an opportunity to say, 'Thank you Gil," said Councilwoman Claudia M. Frometa. "You are loved, vou are missed every day. Your leadership, always making things happen, and making sure the council members – I know we are always having different priorities - but you managed to bring us all together in unison.'

Former mayor Kirk Cartozian described Livas' time with the city as "the greatest era in the history of our city for commercial development."

"Economic development in Downey has been rich, but it's been rich during a certain amount of time," said Cartozian. "That inflection point really comes to when Gilbert came to the city of Downey."

Former Mayor Roger Brossmer said Downey pre and post-Livas were "different towns."

"Economic development is thrown around a lot by cities, but few have the revitalization of a city Downey has experienced, and as shared, most of that credit goes to Gilbert. It's really his expertise," said Livas. "Gilbert will tell you that economic development the city has experienced was led by a

When Martin safely returned after the war, they had a formal wedding at the Church of the Immaculate Conception in El Paso on Halloween 1945 and moved afterward to Los Angeles. They remained married and in love for 56 years until Martin's passing in 1999.

Grace and Martin had their first child, Martin "Itzy" Trejo, in 1947. The couple also had two daughters, Olivia Roberts and Alicia Jamison. The family moved to Downey, California in the early 1950s to the home where Grace resided for the remainder of her life. Grace was a homemaker until 1963 when Alicia started school, after which she joined Chem Lab in Downey, CA, where she worked for 42 years. Because she seemed to have boundless energy, she was affectionately known as "The Energizer Bunny". BELLFLOWER – A felon $100,000 from Spanish-speaking handymen has been arrested, and other possible victims are being urged to contact authorities

According to the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department, a victim went to the Lakewood Sheriff's Station in June to report a theft. He told investigators he had placed an ad on the "El Clasificado" website for handyman work and was contacted by Martin Alejandro to perform work at his home in Bellflower.

During the meeting, the man identified himself as an "LA police detective" and said he had access to confiscated and towed vehicles from the police department to sell, Sheriff Alex Villanueva said.

The 56-year-old man offered to sell the victim two hybrid vehicles for a $7,000 deposit via Zelle and another $7,000 once the vehicles were delivered, Villanueva said Tuesday.

But the man did not deliver the vehicles after the deposit was paid, and ignored repeated phone calls from the victim, according to Villanueva. However, the victim managed to reach the man once via phone call, in which he was told by the suspect "that he was a detective and if he didn't want any problems, he should stay away," Villanueva said.

All afternoon He's been moving back and forth, Gathering odd bits of walnut shells and twigs, While all about him the great fields tumble To the blades of the thresher. He's lucky To be where he is, wild with all that happens. He's lucky he's not one of the shadows Living in the blond heart of the wheat. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (844) 477-7869 or visit this Internet Web site WWW.STOXPOSTING.COM, using the file number assigned to this case 101900-CA. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone nformation or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT: Effective January 1, 2021, you may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (855) 313-3319, or visit this internet website www.clearreconcorp.com, using the file number assigned to this case 101900-CA to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. Doctor offers tips to deal with upcoming time change

Contributed by Kaiser Permanente

Daylight Saving Time As ends on Sunday, Nov. 6, you may ask yourself, how will this affect my sleep cycle? Will there be a downside to the time change, or are the benefits too many to be a cause for concern?

The answer is 'Yes,' 'Maybe' and 'Yes,' as it's a mixed bag, according to Dr. Kendra Becker, a Sleep Medicine physician with Kaiser Permanente Southern California.

Here's why.

"The upcoming time change will be welcomed by many as we will gain one full hour of sleep," Dr. Becker explained. "However, for some people, that can present a challenge. For those who tend to go to bed early and wake up early, some will have difficulty adjusting, as they're likely to wake up much earlier the next morning, and that could impact their daily schedule."

That way, your body will likely adjust to the time change much better.²

But what about the downsides of the time change? According to lay in bed when not sleeping, Dr. Becker, there aren't many, but some do present a challenge.

"Because it will get much darker in the morning, for many early birds, it will be much harder to get out of bed," she said. "The way we're programmed, we need more light to wake us up because of our natural circadian rhythm. Additionally, studies have shown that because evenings will be dark earlier and mornings will be dark and longer when many people drive to work or take their children to school, there are often more car accidents, so be careful while on the road."

Whether you're an early bird

15 minutes later each night. Most or a night owl, Dr. Becker says people have no problem staying up some simple advice, regardless of later, and for those who do, go to any time change, will help you get bed later incrementally each night. a good night's sleep, which studies show is critically important to good physical and mental health. That is true all year long, she said.

> "Stick to a sleep routine, don't don't drink caffeine after 12 p.m., and avoid alcohol at least four hours before bedtime," Dr. Becker stressed. "Keep your bedroom cool, and don't watch TV or check your email on your phone while in bed as you want to eliminate as much light as possible before sleep, and blue light is your enemy. Also, exercising will help you sleep better, as will blocking out distracting noise.'

> So if you follow this advice, you're likely to sleep well after the time change on Nov. 6. At least until we lose that precious hour of sleep on March 12 when we'll return to Daylight Saving Time.

A veterans' tax-savings benefit

■ Tax-savings programs are available for U.S. veterans and their spouses.

By Jeff Prang Los Angeles County Assessor

As we prepare to give thanks this November on Thanksgiving Day, it's also important to remember those that have served our great nation in the military and honor their courage and valor this Veterans Day.

Veterans Day is a federal holiday and is celebrated this Nov. 11. Veterans Day, as most of you know, is a tribute to military veterans who have served in the U.S. Armed Forces. It's not to be confused with Memorial Day, which honors those who died while in service. Veterans Day honors all military veterans, including those still with us.

As a quick reminder, Veterans Day evolved from Armistice Day, which was proclaimed in 1919 by President Woodrow Wilson, celebrating the signing of the Armistice that ended World War I. That occurred on Nov. 11 at 11 a.m. and formally recognized the "11th hour, of the 11th day, of the 11th month" in 1918 that ended the war.

In 1954, the holiday was changed to Veterans Day to honor all veterans in all wars. We still celebrate this day, recognizing the tie with WWI, meaning we celebrate Veterans Day the same day every year - Nov. 11 regardless of the day of the week it falls. If Veterans Day falls on the weekend, it can be celebrated on the Saturday or Sunday and on the following Monday.

Since it's a federal holiday, a bank holiday and a state holiday, federal and state employees get the day off from work.

Not only am I visiting with you about Veterans Day but to remind you that we have tax savings' programs available for veterans.

Here's how it works: If you are a single veteran with assets of less than $5,000, a married veteran with assets of less than $10,000, or an unmarried surviving spouse of an eligible veteran, you may apply for the Veterans' Exemption of $4,000, which is applied to the assessed value of your property.

Although it is unnecessary for the veteran to reside on that property in order to qualify, this exemption claim must be filed every year.

If you are a disabled veteran the exemption is even greater. If a veteran is blind in both eyes, has lost the use of two or more limbs, or is totally disabled as a result of injury or disease incurred in military service, you may be eligible for a Disabled Veterans' Property Tax Exemption. You may be eligible for an exemption of up to $150,000 of the assessed value of your home. The Veterans Administration must certify the veteran's disability. Unmarried surviving spouses of certain deceased veterans may also qualify.

We owe a tremendous debt to our veterans and I say thank you for all that you've done, all that you do and all that you will do. Our Democracy is built on your service.

My office offers several other tax-savings programs as well and the Veterans Exemptions are just two examples. For additional property tax relief programs, visit assessor.lacounty.gov/exclusionstax-relief or call 213/974-3211.
